

NO. 2

TO THE PUBLIC.

It being within four months of the end of the current year (1884), and wishing to increase our already large circulation so that every home in the county will have THE TRIBUNE, we make you the following UNPRECEDENTED OFFER. We will send you THE TRIBUNE from the present time to the BEGINNING OF THE YEAR 1885 for the sum of $1.00. THE TRIBUNE IS AN 8-page 40-column paper, containing all the LATEST TELEGRAMS, CONDENSED NEWS AND LOCAL AND COUNTY ITEMS, besides AN ENTERTAINING STORY EVERY WEEK. It also contains CORRECT MARKET REPORTS, which are received at the office up to the hour of going to press.

Our Agent will call upon you in a few days for your subscription.

The Tribune.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1884.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

GEDDIS' Restaurant is in full blast. Call in.

REMEMBER the LENOX Fair at Napanee next Tuesday, 7th inst.

Our Picton correspondent is again to the fore with his spicy items.

A MAN may collar a doctor, but it takes a doctor to collar morbus.

The cheapest and best stationery in town at THE TRIBUNE office. Call and examine.

The return of Mr. Hawley, lately elected for Lennox, has been protested by petition.

ANOTHER lot of those cheap and readable books suitable for all tastes at THE TRIBUNE office.

SENTIMENTAL young ladies are now busy every day collecting autumn leaves for house decoration.

The steam dredge is now busy dredging the channel of the Napanee river about a mile below the town.

The schooner Paragon has been up on the marine railway all week getting a thorough refitting, including a new bowsprit, etc.

$500 Counterfeit bills are in circulation and newspaper men are warned accordingly to be careful in counting their change.

BILL heads, note heads and letter heads printed in first class style at THE TRIBUNE office and at prices that defy competition.

MR. RICHARD MARICE has returned home from the Kingston Hospital, recovered from the effects of his accident of a few months ago.

REV. T. STANTON, Rector of St. Mark's Church, has now become we are glad to say a resident of Deseronto, having moved into the new rectory last week.

MR. BRANT POWLES, a resident of the Tyendinaga reserve, was stricken with paralysis on Wednesday of last week and died the following day. He was 81 years of age.

DISCHARGED.—The case of Moses Maracle v. John Claus, of the Reserve, charging the appropriation of a horse with intent to defraud was tried before police magistrate Flint, at Belleville, on Monday, and the prisoner discharged.

POLICE COURT.—Peter Shaw and Daniel Hand, two sailors from Colborne, were arrested on Thursday evening for being drunk and disorderly. On the following morning they were brought before the Reeve and fined $2.00 each, with $2.50 costs each additional.

MR. HARRY REID, for thirteen years an employee of the Grand Trunk at Kingston, has accepted the position of conductor in the N. T. & Q. Ry. He is a brother of Mr. John Reid of our local branch. On leaving his old position he was presented with a purse of $100.

NEW STORE.—The new brick store in course of erection by Mr. Geo. Stewart is going up rapidly. The building will be very substantial in character and neat in design, and will probably be one of the finest business establishments in Deseronto. Mr. Trimble of St. George street will occupy the new shop when completed.

FANCY GOODS.—Mrs. Edith Coleman intends opening out a stationery and fancy goods business on St. George street at an early day. She has been so fortunate as to secure half of Mr. John Dalton's shop which will be fitted up in good style. As such an establishment is greatly needed in Deseronto it is certain that under such a popular proprietor the new venture must prove a success.

Mr. Jas. Booth offers a quantity of brick for sale; see advt.

THE Pullman Company's loss by the late accident at Pickering will probably amount to $50,000.

PARTIES desirous of getting ostrich feathers curled, dyed, and cleaned properly will please call at Mrs. Sui-der's opposite the Brick Church.

Every one going to the Fair at Napanee will give Downey & Co's. great establishment a visit. Don't forget it.

"TANGENT" in an extremely interesting communication gives an excellent description of the famous sink hole on the N. T. & Q. Ry.

GREAT wrestling these nights with stove pipes. Preserve your temper by getting one of McRae's hands to put up the joints quietly and deftly.

FOOT BALL.—The Union Jacks go to Napanee on Saturday to play a game of foot-ball with their former opponents the Young Canadians of that town.

THE semi-annual meeting of the South Hastings Teachers' Convention is to be held in the Ontario Business College, Belleville, on October 16th and 17th.

A LARGE number of young men and boys are arranging to attend Mr. Watson's night school. This action is commendable; no better way to spend the long evenings.

GREAT fall opening at Mrs. Dalton's millinery store on St. George street. She extends a cordial invitation to the public of Deseronto and vicinity. Latest styles at lowest prices.

A TOMATO.—Mr. W. P. Bowen, who is so successful in raising choice vegetables, has handed us in a huge tomato weighing over one and a half pounds; a splendid specimen surely. The lifting and lining of the Gananoque branch is now completed and its roadbed is now said to nearly compare with our local branch which is said to be the model track of Ontario.

MR. R. Conley, of the East end bakery, makes some startling announcements in his advertisement this week. Read it carefully. He is preparing to extend his business in other directions as well.

SPLENDID FRUIT.—Mr. David Smith a farmer in this neighborhood, has placed on our table two magnificent apples, each of which weighs over eleven ounces. Can any farmer in this section beat that record.

COMPLAINTS are made of the state of the crossing from Mrs. Sui-der's Millers', and also of that at Hampton Miller's corner. Two or three very dangerous holes in the side walks remain to threaten actions for damages. The Council will attend to the west end at the earliest possible day.

COMMUNION SERVICES.—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed in the Church of the Redeemer on Sabbath next at 10:30 a. m. Preparatory services will be held the three evenings previous, Rev. A. Young of Napanee, preaching on Thursday, and Rev. Jas. Cumberland of Stella, on Friday evening.

SUCCESSFUL.—At the State Fair of Pennsylvania held at Philadelphia last month, the White sewing machine, of which Mr. John Dalton is agent, was successful in carrying off all the honors. The White is now acknowledged to be the king of all machines, and parties investing in a machine will do well to call on Mr. Dalton at once.

DENSE IGNORANCE.—A Belleville news paper in its account of the laying of the foundation stone of the new hospital in that city, states that the children were supposed to sing the national anthem on the occasion but the attempt proved a dismal failure, the children never having learnt it. Too bad! Too bad!

GRAND EXCURSION.—The steam Quinte will carry an excursion from Napanee to the Murray canal, calling at intermediate ports on the 14th inst., to enable parties to attend the grand demonstration connected with the laying of the corner stone of the bridge piers. Sir John Macdonald, Hon. Messrs. Powell, Costigan, Carling and Pope will be present. For further information see posters.

SCHOOL EXTENSION.—Work on the new addition to the school buildings is progressing favorably, and Mr. A. Oliver, the contractor, expects to have it ready at or near the time allotted. Despite unfavorable weather Mr. Jas. Booth has got the mason work well forward the walls being nearly completed. The new extension is of two stories, and is 58 x 28, and 22 ft. 6 in. in height. There will be a schoolroom on each story, each 36 x 26, and two rooms on each flat each being 12 ft. 6 in. x 12 ft. 6 in. The work is under the supervision of Mr. G. A. Cliff, architect, is being performed in a most substantial manner.

THE Varuna will carry excursionists from all bay ports to the Napanee Fair at reduced fares.

THE Quinte carried a large excursion yesterday from South Bay to the Midland Fair at Kingston.

WATCH for Meagher & Co's. change of advertisement next week. Meagher is now prepared for the rush.

MR. GEO. SMITH, has made heavy fall importations and it will be a pleasure to him to let you inspect his new stock.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. James Stokes had his thumb crushed between the cars on Tuesday morning. He is progressing favorably under Dr. Newton's care.

PASSENGER traffic on the different steamers now begins to fall, but there is an increase in freight, which fully compensates that reduction.

FARM SOLD.—Mr. R. H. Baker has sold his fine farm in North Fredericksburg to Messrs. Harland Bros. The price paid is $3,500. Mr. Baker getting three houses in part payment.

REGISTRATION.—There have been registered with Mr. Robt. N. Irvine, registrar of the district of Deseronto, during the month of September:—births, 4, Marriages 2, and deaths 4.

SEVEN Toronto bicyclists on their way home from the Provincial Exhibition at Ottawa passed through Deseronto last Saturday. While in town they made their headquarters at the O'Connor House.

MR. J. P. Martin is now local agent for that famous medicine Ochta-wah's Indian Oil which possesses wonderful virtues and meets with constant and ready sale.

TWO boys in the east end were playing "twelve" with a rotten egg the other day, the result of which was that one caught the unsavory fruit full in the face presenting a fine spectacle for a few minutes.

CARTER'S Boot and Shoe Store is the great emporium of the east end. He has recently made the largest importation of leather ever brought in Deseronto, and is prepared to do more work than ever.

ALL SAINTS (Upper Mohawk).—The harvest thanksgiving service in All Saints Church is appointed for Thursday, 12th Oct., at 11 o'clock a.m. The Church will be as usual handsomely decorated.

THE Napanee Standard is giving its readers a series of excellently written articles on the Napanee and Tanaworth Railway, which show the vast capabilities of the country through which that line is constructed.

ACQUINT.—The Hero ran around last Saturday evening near Bath, and in consequence of this mishap did not arrive in Deseronto until 1:30 p.m. on Sunday. It is a rare thing for that popular vessel to thus come to grief.

W. H. CARNOVSKY, now of Port Arthur, is visiting friends in Kingston. He says that his child, which disappeared many months ago has never been traced. He thinks it met its death by drowning, having been last seen on the dock.

CONCERT.—A concert and literary entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Church of the Redeemer will be held in the Union Sabbath school room next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Every preparation has been made to ensure a grand success.

CHECKER MATCH.—A return match at cricket will be played to-day (Thursday) in the Hospital field between the Picton Club and our local club. Picton has the best team in Central Ontario and the game ought therefore to attract a large number of visitors. The game will commence about ten o'clock.

CHORAL.—The singing in St. Mark's Church last Sunday evening was in every respect superior, the efforts of the choir being powerfully supplemented by Mr. H. Upton, travelling auditor of the Grand Trunk, who was present on the occasion. The song-sermon and praise service in the Methodist church drew a large congregation, the church being crowded, the singing being excellent and all the services hearty and attractive. At the Church of the Redeemer, Mr. Baren rendered a solo in a manner worthy of all praise.

CHRIST CHURCH.—A Harvest Thanksgiving service was held in Christ Church, (Lower Mohawk) last Sunday, which notwithstanding the short notice and very unfavorable state of the roads was quite successful. As however there were many necessarily absent who no doubt desire to see the exquisite decorations and contribute towards the Sunday School Fund on behalf of which a collection was taken up, the decorations will remain up over next Sunday, 5th Oct., and further aid will be asked for the Sunday School.

An interesting event which is causing quite a flutter in social circles takes place at Christ Church to-day.

BURGALARS.—Burglars have been making attempts recently on the residences of Mr. Jos. Baldwin and C. Dryden.

ANDERSON, the new watchmaker, illuminates the east end of Main street. He finds Deseronto just the place he has been looking for.

MR. WATSON KIRK, of the Indian Store, reports business brisk at his establishment, and is prepared to sell groceries at lower prices than ever.

SERENADES.—On Monday night the Deseronto Cornet Band called at the residences of H. B. Rathbun Esq., and Mr. F. G. Jenkins, playing a number of spirited airs in good style.

THE Big Store reports very heavy sales during the last two weeks, their recent importations from Britain being unequalled in Central Ontario. Sugar and groceries at bottom prices.

BIBLE SOCIETY.—The Annual Meeting of the Deseronto Branch Bible Society will be held (D. V.) next Monday evening, 6th inst, in the Union Sabbath School room (White Church) at 7:30 o'clock. The annual reports will be presented business transacted and officers elected. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Hodgkin, Agent, and the resident clergymen of Deseronto. It is trusted that there will be a very large attendance on the part of the public, the meetings of this Society being always deeply interesting.

BLUE RIBBON.—The opening meeting of the Deseronto Temperance Society last Friday evening proved a success, the addresses of Rev. Messrs. Baker and Crossley being encouraging and aggressive, and Mr. Bedford's readings as usual excellent. Four little girls sang some selections very sweetly and at the close a goodly number of the audience signed the pledge. A meeting of members only will be held in Rathbun Hall on Friday evening, at 7:30 p. m., and as business of great importance is to be transacted it is hoped there will be a full attendance.

Full lines of dress goods from 10 cts. at Meagher & Co's.

Best stock of mens' and boys' clothing at Meagher & Co's.

Clothes that are made to order are guaranteed to fit at R. Geddis's.

LUMBER OPERATIONS.—Mr. T. Butler has already commenced active operations in the lumber woods and is busy hiring men, sending in parties and supplies and building shanties. It is thought that the operations of the coming winter will be fully as great as those of last season. Mr. James Murphy, foreman, is building a new shanty at Grimsby, and Edward Walsh commenced cutting in the same township on Tuesday of last week. On Saturday Samuel Alexander commenced cutting in Olden. Each of these foremen has thirty men engaged at present.

A fine selection of choice readable books at THE TRIBUNE office.

DISTRICT.

Stirling now furnishes a ten cent loaf. Troquois will submit a waterworks by-law. Marmora will have a $4000 Masonic hall.

Kingston defeated Belleville at quoits by three points. Campbellford has voted down the waterworks by-law. Made rejoices in an Early Rose potato, weighing 2 lbs. 14 oz.

Barltre has been busy at Trevel and Peterborough. One hundred men are now employed at the Golding gold mine. Candidates for municipal honours are already to the front in Malton.

The parties supposed to be connected with the burglary at Irish Creek, have been captured. The Women's Medical College at Kingston has opened again on an increased attendance.

Mr. Chalton, recently injured by a railway train in Belleville, died immediately after his leg had been amputated. The temperance people of Innis will probably wait until Hastings and Frontenac have adopted the Scott Act, before they try it.

The Stirling News Argus considers the insane asylums as worse places for lunatics than the Belleville workhouse. A case of gross cruelty in those institutions; let us have an investigation.

The Big Store have just received their second consignment of Dress Goods from London, England.

PICTON.

Thos. Wilson has leased the Burnett House, Kingston, and goes Tuesday of this week to take possession. J. W. Frankel the former proprietor has retired to private life having purchased a 50 acre farm west of the city limits.

An error crept into my item of last week concerning the price of the cargo of peas for Haulan. It should read 55c. in place of 40 cents.

The Haulan carried a part of a cargo of peas in bags for J. L. Allen to Oswego last week. 100 bags at 12 1/2 cents.

The Bloomfield farm on Saturday last was badly broken up about 3 p. m., on account of the heavy rain. The water previous being so fine that a good many were caught unprepared for such a storm, your correspondent among the rest.

Three young men from Cherry Valley were in covered rig returning from the Bloomfield farm, when opposite Devil Kelly's barn, where a steam thrasher was in operation, the horse took fright and landed them in the ditch, the buggy upsetting and the thrasher going by, which allowed the horse to escape and make off. The buggy was badly broken, no one was hurt.

Nehemiah Gilbert, the absent lawyer, has returned to town, where he is expected to resume his practice, not likely that of skipping out with the hired girl of which he has had enough for the present. I learn they buried their infant child while at St. Thomas.

The approaching election on the Scott Act the 30th inst. does not seem to create very much agitation as yet on either side. It is difficult to predict how the decision will go as this is a very changeable constituency, and the growing hope and barley are among the first products of this country, and interest is quite an important matter.

CHAPTER IV.

As Mrs. Tucker, erect, white and rigid, drove away from the house, it seemed to her to sink again into the monotonous plain, with all its horrible realities. Except that there was now a new and heart-breaking significance to the solitude and loneliness of the landscape, all that had passed might have been a dream. As the blood came back to her cheek, and little by little her tingling consciousness returned, it seemed as if her life had been the dream, and that as she awoke the awakening reality. With eyes smarting with the moisture of shame, and scarlet blood in tears dyeing her neck and temples, she smothered her lower end in her hand and bent over the reins. Bit by bit she realized, in Penderexter's mysterious caution and strange allusions, the corroboration of her husband's shame and her own disgrace.

This was why she was brought hither—the deserted wife, the abandoned confederate! The mocking glitter of the concave vault above her scorched by the incandescent light, the cold stare of the shining pool beyond, the hard outlines of the coast range and the jarring companionship of her horse's hoofs and rattling buggy wheels alternately goaded and distracted her. She found herself repeating "No! no! no!" with the dogged reiteration of force. She scarcely knew when or where she had reached the house.

It was only conscious that she had entered the parlor. The dusty solitude that had before filled her with unrest now came to her as a benumbing peace. She seemed to fall from the crumbling walls—the peace of utter seclusion, isolation, oblivion, death! Nevertheless, an hour later, when the door opened and a bride was again here in the road, she started to her feet with bent brows and a kindling eye, and confronted Capt. Penderexter in the corridor.

"I would not have intruded upon you so soon again," he said gravely, "but I thought I might spare you a repetition of the scene of this morning. Near me, deprecating gesture, as she lifted the beautiful room of her eyes. He had just heard of your neighbor, Don Jose Santerra of Los Gatos, on his way to this house. He once claimed this land and hated his husband, who bought it from the rival claimant, whose deed was confirmed. I tell you this, he added, slightly flushing as Mrs. Tucker turned impatiently away. "I tell you this, that legally he has no right, and you need not see him unless you choose. I could not stop his coming without perhaps doing you more harm than good. When he comes, my presence under this roof as your legal counsel will enable you to refer him to me." He stopped. She was pacing the corridor with short, quick steps, her arms dropped and her hands clasped rigidly before her. "Have I your permission to stay?"

She suddenly stopped in her walk, approached him rapidly, and, fixing her eyes on his, said:

"Do I know all now—everything?"

He could only reply that she had not yet told him what he had heard.

"Well," she said, scornfully, "but my husband has been cruelly injured upon imposed upon by some wretched woman, who has made him sacrifice his property, his friends, his honor—everything but me!"

"Everything but what?" asked Penderexter.

"But me!"

Penderexter gazed at the sky, the air, the deserted corridor, the stoniness of the parlor, itself, and then at the inexplicable woman, before him. Then he said gravely, "I think you know everything."

"Yes—if my husband has left me all he could—this property," she went on rapidly, twisting her handkerchief between her fingers, "I can do with it what I like, can't I?"

"You certainly can," he said with passionate vehemence. "Sell it—all! everything! And sell these. She darted into her bedroom, and returned with the diamond rings she had torn from her finger and which she had entered the house. "Sell them for anything they'll bring—only sell them at once."

"But for what?" asked Penderexter, with demure lips but twinkling eyes.

"To pay the debts that this—this woman has led him into to return the money she has stolen!" she said, rapidly, "to keep him from sharing her infamy. Can't you understand?"

"But my dear madam," began Penderexter, "even if this woman has stolen the money—"

"Don't tell me 'if it could—it must be done. Do you think I could sleep under this roof, propped up by the timbers of that ruined house? Do you think I could wear those diamonds again, while that mercenary shop woman can say that her money brought them? No! If you are my husband's friend, you will do this—for his sake."

She stopped, looked and interloped her cold fingers before her, and said hesitatingly and mechanically, "I don't mean well, Captain Penderexter, in bringing me here, I know I must not think that I blame you for it—or for the honorable result of it that you have just witnessed. But if I have gained anything by it, for God's sake let me reap it quickly, that I may give it to these people and get I have a right to it. I want to get to my husband or to my home in Kentucky, where Spencer will yet find me, I know. I want nothing but my husband. She stopped again. With another woman the same would have been one of tears. But she kept her head above the flood that filled her heart and the dyes fixed upon Penderexter, albeit pained, were undimmed.

"But this would require time," said Penderexter, with a smile of compassion. "I am not a man of business, but I am a man of property. You are safe to hold this property while in actual possession, but you are not strong enough to hold it to another. There may still be litigation; your husband has other creditors than these people you have talked with. But while none could out you—the wife who would have the sympathies of judge and jury—it might be a different case if anyone could deprive you of it. Any purchaser would know that you could not sell, or, if you did, it would be at exorbitant sacrifice."

She listened to him unsatisfiedly, walked to the end of the corridor, retraced, and without looking up, said:

"If I suppose you know her?"

"I beg your pardon?"

"This woman. You have seen her?"

"Never to my knowledge."

"And you are his friend? That strange!"

She raised her eyes to his. "Well," she continued impatiently, "who is she? and what is she? You know that surely?"

"I know no more of her than what I have said," said Penderexter. "She is a notorious woman."

The swift color came to Mrs. Tucker's face as if the epithet had been applied to herself. "I suppose," she said, in a dry voice, as if she were asking a business question, but with a certain gleam in her eyes, "I suppose there is some law by which certain acts of this kind can be followed and brought to justice. The law that would keep innocent people from suffering for their crimes?"

"I am afraid," said Penderexter, "that prosecuting her would hardly help these people to their friends."

"I am not speaking of them," responded Mrs. Tucker, with a sudden sob. "I am speaking of the people whose cause she had espoused. 'I am talking of my husband!'"

Penderexter bit his lip. "You'd hardly think of bringing back the strongest witness against him," he said bluntly.

Mrs. Tucker dropped her eyes and was silent. A sudden shudder suffused Penderexter's cheek; he felt as if he had struck that woman a blow.

"I beg your pardon," he said hastily, "I was not thinking of that."

He would have taken any other woman by the hand in the honest fulness of his apology, but something restrained him. He was too old to do that gently, and he lowered his head, and repeated his question, if he should remain during the coming interview with the judge, he would say to you to mean that you claim, this man, Spencer Tucker, is a Judas—a traitor! It means that he gave Los Cuervos to his mistress a year ago, and that he sold her the business of Los Gatos, the day before she left! It means that the cope of a Spencer, the thief who sold her the business of Los Gatos, was a traitor, has tricked you all! Look," he said, rising in his saddle, holding the paper like a shield, and debating with a sweep of his hand, "I will level plan lands were once mine—they are mine again today. I want to purchase Los Cuervos! You ask, if you will speak of the business, will I sell? I have purchased Los Cuervos, and here is the deed."

"What does it mean?" repeated Don Jose, with a start. "This is why," said Penderexter, "I have bought Los Cuervos from his hand and opened it. But the smile faded from his lips as he read. With blazing eyes he scanned the lines, and the Spanish lady who sat beside him, and said sternly, "What does this mean?"

to recall himself, and with an apologetic smile, and a studied but graceful gesture of invitation, he motioned to the gateway, and said, "What can the fellow be up to?" muttered Penderexter, as with a sneering and he proceeded to answer to his host. "If he wasn't an old hidalgo I'd mistrust him. No matter. Here goes!"

The door opened, and the half-broken mustang; they proceeded in solemn silence through the coral, and side by side emerged to find the old hidalgo keep them in a circle around; no other being was in sight. It was not until the lonely hacienda had all a snuff that they knew that Don Jose broke the silence.

"You say just now we shall speak as business men," said Don Jose, "I will not. I shall speak—we shall speak—as gentlemen."

"Do so," said Penderexter, who was beginning to feel a little uneasy.

"I say just now I will not purchase the ranch from the Senora. And why? Look you, Don Marco," he resumed in his horse, thrust his hand under his serape, and drew out a folded document. "This is why."

He unfolded the document, and read from his hand and opened it. But the smile faded from his lips as he read. With blazing eyes he scanned the lines, and the Spanish lady who sat beside him, and said sternly, "What does this mean?"

TRIP TO NORTH HASTINGS.

The County of Hastings is one of the largest in Ontario. It stretches from the Bay of Quinte back over the hills into the Ottawa Valley. It touches seven other counties, and has five distinct lines of railway running through it. (Cutting across the means of communication with the rest of it was the Farmers' Hastings Road, remarkable for its length and roughness. The Ontario Central R. R. is a line from Trenton for seventy-two miles into the County, as far as the township of Wollaston, has shortened the time to accomplish the journey of the journey to L'Amable, Bancroft and Maynooth.

It was our good fortune lately to take a trip over the Ontario Central from Trenton to its extreme northern terminus—Cochill in the Township of Wollaston. It is a fine morning when we boarded the train at Trenton station. Trenton lay bathed in mist, which the rising sun was at last dispelling. The bridge, the mill, the hill, were the conspicuous landmarks. In the harbor, the Varna was preparing for her daily trip down the bay. Crossing the bridge were mechanics with tools and dinner-pails on their way to work. From up the river came the sounds of the river drivers; and as the tugboats whistled on at six o'clock, our train glided out of the station. It has seen service. The passenger car was not made less than a year, nor within five years. We wonder why it is not more noisy. Before our trip ends we see that it is suited for its work, and that four car would be a wonder why it is not more noisy. Before our trip ends we see that it is suited for its work, and that four car would be a wonder why it is not more noisy.

On leaving Trenton, the track cuts closely on the grounds of the Roman Catholic and Church of England parishes, especially in the latter, destroying the beauty and retirement. Running along the west side of the Trent, the track crosses the G. T. R. near its station, at which is known as the Diamond Crossing. Here, belonging to the former, are quite a cluster of work-shops, whence come the hum of machinery and men. No locality is suited here to the scenery by the unpainted houses along the G. T. R. station. Why are Canadians so far behind their American cousins in this respect?

We soon reach Frankford. It has not changed in twenty years, when we last saw it. It is a struggling hamlet, with a prominent mill, as are three churches, and a large school. More business does here twenty years ago than now, remarks a stout countryman who has just come aboard. Formerly there was a good market for grain, wheat especially being much grown.

Further on, the track crosses the Trent at Chisholm's Mills, where a small canal and lock remind one of the Incomplete Government Trent Falls, which were to open navigation from Quinte to Huron. We soon cross the Midland Railway, running here and good farms. Great care is taken of the Canadian thistle, but its frail life may languish. Its culture is a success. We should estimate the crop at one hundred bushels to the acre. At the same time we would suggest a change of seed, from the old country thistle, or some such seed as the pea or barley, looks much better, and is more profitable.

After leaving Midland Railway Crossing and approaching Rawdon, the country becomes hilly, until at the latter place we have an outcrop of old limestone, highly marked. This is the best station on the line. So far, the road-bed is magnificent, and remains so until we reach the Ontario and Quebec R. R., which is a fine road, and west—a grand belt of steel not excelled. At the crossing, already are laid the foundations of an extensive passenger and freight depot. We pass Spring Lake, at which in operation is a stone excavator loading a long ballast train. The buildings required for the men resemble those of a lumbering depot. It is odd to see telegraph wires running into a log shanty. Bass Lake is passed on the left, and we draw up on the Hastings Road at Rathburn. Here in the woods is the O. C. here are a log shanty, an unfinished barn, a man, a dog, the road, and this is Rathburn.

We gladly move on. Conlin's Lake, a pretty sheet of water, the fish, Lake Lake on the right, and a broken-down gold mine on the left, usher us into the famous Wollaston Iron Mine, locally known as Conlin's. Our trip has occupied six hours. It is time for dinner, and as we drop off, and cross the uneven ground to the Boarding House, we see the workmen at their dinner. We defer a visit to the mine until we have recruited our strength in the Dining Hall.

The Tea which was imported by the Big Store this fall is the best ever offered in this vicinity. Already they are receiving orders from a distance for chest teas. If you have not used any, call and get a sample.

A peculiar virtue in Ayer's Sarsaparilla is that while it cleanses and purges the blood from all corrupt and impure elements, and thereby roots out disease, it builds up and invigorates the whole system, and makes one young again.

DREDGING OPERATIONS.

The steam dredge 'Ontario' still continues her operations at Shannonville, and has succeeded in deepening the channel so that vessels drawing twelve or thirteen feet of water will be able in future to enter that port. She is at present working at Goodby Point about half a mile from the village, having cleared all obstructions from the mouth of the Salmon River to that point as well as for a distance of about three quarters of a mile out into the bay. There are still three more bars to be removed which it is thought can be accomplished by the middle of November. Vessels will then be able to load grain at the village without running any risk. This will be a great benefit to the shipping of grain to Shannonville, besides enabling excursion steamer to call more frequently, than heretofore. The officers and crew of the dredge and tug have by their kindness and courtesy become quite popular at Shannonville as well as at other points on the bay. The crew of the 'Ontario' is as follows:—J. Lee, Capt. and engineer; E. Anderson, Clerk; Thos. Wellesley, foreman; Albert Upper, book-keeper; and Wm. Livingston, cook. The 'Sir John', Wm. Drennan, Capt. David Wilcox Esq., A. Dunlop, fireman, and James Mitchell, stevedore.

Just arrived, Boy's Agency Sacks, from $1.75 at the Big Store.

The Big Store has the agency for the sale of Messrs. Bonell & Dunning's celebrated Canned Goods. Dealers and consumers will find it to their advantage to buy these goods at the Big Store.

The sales of Boots and Shoes at the Big Store are continually increasing and are now almost double what they were the corresponding period of last year, which is the result of purchasing from honorable and reliable manufacturers. The Big Store has a large stock to select from which was never so well assorted as at present.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "52 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 27, 1885. Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the illustrious doctor will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case. Yours truly, W. M. Phillips."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of # Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sore. The humor caused an intense and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were so great, and my life a burden, I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1885. Young respectfully, HIRSH PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Eruptions, Eczema, Ringworm, Itchings, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1884.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

WATERWORKS.

Must have a bridge.

MEAGHER & Co. announce some new facts in their advertisement this week. Mrs. Dalton's fall opening of millinery is daily drawing crowds of fair visitors.

Subscriptions for Montreal Witness and all leading newspapers received at the TRIBUNE office.

This steam barge industry with all her formidable machinery has returned to port after a successful season's work at Trenton.

The second payment on lots bought from the Indian Department at the sale of the Reserve last year is due this month.

Our readers will welcome the contribution of our new correspondent from Vennachar from whom they will be pleased to hear very frequently.

Mr. STEWART has not yet risen to the situation or those holes in the boardwalks would, long since, have been repaired. Those unsightly crossings still disgrace the west side of St. George street.

ANOTHER CONTRACT.—Mr. James Burgess and a gang of workmen out on the line of the Central Ontario railway to construct a large engine and boiler house in connection with the Coochill Mining Company's extensive works.

BARLEY.—There is not much doing yet in barley, and prices still continue very low. It will be just as well for farmers to go on with their fall ploughing and defer their sales of grain until a later day when better prices may possibly be obtained.

FOOT BALL.—The Union Jacks went down to Napanee last Saturday and sustained a disastrous defeat from the Young Canadians of that town, being beaten in three straight games. They assert that their competitors were too heavy for juniors like them.

SERENADE.—The Deseronto Cornet Band paid their respects to Mr. and Mrs. James D. Burgess by playing a number of selections before their residence on Dundas street. Mr. Burgess acknowledged their kind attentions by a handsome donation to the band fund.

THE HERO.—Read the advertisement of the popular steamer "Hero" and note carefully her change of time. The rumor that the ran aground last week at Bath was incorrect. It was delayed solely by the exceedingly stormy weather which was then prevailing.

ECONOMICAL.—The Council have fixed the rate of taxation for this year at 21 mills, being one mill less on the dollar than the rate last year. This speaks well for the care and economy with which they have managed affairs this season and will be one of several powerful arguments for their re-election in January.

THE LARGEST.—There has been placed on one table a huge radish weighing seven pounds, and measuring 21½ and 24 inches in its respective circumference. This monster was grown on the farm of Mr. Wm. McColl, of the Napanee road, being one of many of about the same size which he has raised this season.

PRETEXTIOUS CLAIMS.—It seems that not content with the honors of Crown Jewel flour, and the discovery of perpetual motion, the staff of the Deseronto Flour Mills now claim that its members constitute the best looking crowd to be found in any establishment in Deseronto outside of the TRIBUNE office. Even with that necessary reservation we fear that such claims are too pretentious by far.

PARSONAGE OPENING.—The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church are busy at present preparing for a grand opening of the new parsonage which will take place about the middle of November. A large assortment of fancy articles will be on sale and various other attractions provided, and as over sixty ladies in the town have promised their co-operation, it requires very little of the gift of prophecy to predict a grand success.

Our sporting reporter informs us that he saw one of the finest collections of good fish, including twelve pike, that he ever witnessed in Deseronto. He regrets, however, to state that they were the result of a Sunday's work. The same lynx-eyed collector of items witnessed a lady a Sunday or two since, marching along the street with the barrel of a shot gun sticking out from under her shawl. The ducks would catch it that day.

FOUND.—Last Thursday a rubber coat call at the TRIBUNE office.

The Reeve moves to-day into his new mansion on the Napanee road.

Mr. L. E. MILLS, does a very large and increasing business in hardware &c., at Shannonville.

OUR Kingston correspondent did the Midland Fair and pleasantly describes his experiences.

THE ladies of Deseronto and vicinity should note carefully Mrs. Butler's advt. in another column.

THE Lennox Fair attracted a great number of visitors from Deseronto who express themselves much pleased with the exhibits.

Milling's team of black horses which took second prize at the first quarterly fair at this place took the same position at the Great Fair at Toronto.

MACKLIN and Hampton tramped out to Kingsford and back the other afternoon in quick time, striking it as a five mile gait on an average.

PARTIES renewing subscriptions to the Globe and Mail, or other Toronto papers, will save money by sending their orders through the TRIBUNE office.

CHRIST CHURCH.—Sunday School at Christ Church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and regular services, owing to thanksgiving services in morning at All Saints, will be held at 3:30 p. m.

READ very carefully in another column the advertisement of the old, reliable house of F. Donoghue & Bros. They have made heavy importation of dry goods, groceries &c., for their great fall opening.

THE RESERVE.—Mr. Dingman, accompanied by Chief Green has been inspecting the Reserve and gathering information with a view to making some important and necessary changes in the management of Indian affairs.

OBSERVE.—The next meeting of the Deseronto Temperance Society will be held on Friday evening in Rathbun Hall. Unusual attractions provided on this occasion for which see posters. Go early and secure a seat.

THE steam barge Resolute arrived in port on Wednesday morning after a busy season's work on the upper lakes. Capt. Gowan and his crew, are glad to get back to Deseronto again and are warmly welcomed home by a host of friends.

As we go to press we learn that a social gathering is being held at the residence of Mr. C. Oliver, Dundas St. Mr. J. G. Hooper who has so acceptably labored in connection with St. Mark's Church during the past year will be presented with a purse and an address indicative of the esteem in which he has been deservedly held by the congregation. Mr. Hooper intends continuing his theological studies at Trinity College, Toronto.

EXOROUS YIELD.—Mr. Howatt, of the Bay View farm, has probably the finest crop of potatoes grown this season in the lay district, a result of a judicious choice of the best varieties of seed. There is not the least indication of disease and the yield is enormous, careful calculation showing 450 bushels of "Jumbos" to the acre, and the "Beauties of Helron" even going beyond that, giving 488 bushels to the acre. Visitors to the farm express astonishment at the size and quantity of these tubers which Mr. Howatt with so much justifiable pride exhibits.

CHURCH.—The match which had been announced to take place last week between the Pictou club and our local team has been postponed, a telegram being received from Pictou at the last moment that their team could not play on that day. A return match took place instead between the married and single members of our local club. It was most closely contested, but the cool, steady play of the old men at last carried the day. The score shows 52 and 70 for the married men, the juveniles getting 52 and 65. The winners are greatly elated over their success. On Friday our club plays a match at Napanee with the cricketers of that town.

HARVEST HOME.—A Harvest Home Festival will be held in St. Mark's Church on Sunday next, 12th inst. There will be a full cathedral service with Hopkins's Ten Deem in G at morning prayer. It is expected that Rev. Mr. Carey, of Kingston, will be the preacher. At this and also at the evening service the collections in excess of the usual offertory will be devoted to the fund for finishing the church. It is hoped that an amount will be received sufficient to put the building in such condition as to render it suitable for holding public meetings in connection with the church. The decorations will be suitable for the occasion. It will also be Mr. Hooper's last Sunday in Deseronto for the present year.

Mrs. MIZ has arrived from Toronto; her grand military opening commences to-day; see adv't.

THE churches are now rapidly filling up with young ladies anxious to show their fall bonnets.

THE trip to North Hastings by our correspondent will be pursued with much interest by all our readers.

Mr. TIOS, CROPPER, of Shannonville took first prizes for boots and shoes at the Tyendinaga fair.

ALL SAINTS.—Harvest thanksgiving services will be held in All Saints Church (upper Mohawk) next Sunday at 11 a. m.

NOTICE.—The Choir of St. Mark's Church are requested to attend full rehearsals on Thursday and Saturday evenings at 7:30 o'clock, sharp.

Mr. H. R. BEDFORD, intends at an early day to move his law office into Mr. Kimmerly's new house a couple of doors east of his present office.

CAUTION.—All parties are strictly cautioned against injuring the trees or trespassing on the grounds adjoining the parsonage of Christ Church. All offenders will be prosecuted according to law.

THE fair at Shannonville last Saturday drew a large assembly from all parts of Tyendinaga and surrounding country. There was a good display of agricultural and other products. The rain in the afternoon proved a drawback and marred the pleasure considerably.

R. T. LAZIER took the first prize for cheese at Shannonville and R. McKenny, of Milltown, also made an excellent display of the same article; J. O. LAZIER took the prize for flour; and J. C. Hanley, of Read, the first for potatoes, carrots and second for turnips.

GAS.—Mr. French is rapidly getting the gasworks into good running order, having added a number of very ingenious appliances which overcome some of the mechanical difficulties which have hitherto impeded the production of gas from sawdust. The Big Mill, Cedar Mill &c., are all illuminated now by the new light, and Mr. French has introduced into the former establishment a Siemens' regenerative gas burner which throws a very brilliant light. It is of 350 or 400 candle power and effects a saving moreover of 50 per cent over other burners. Two or three more of these burners will be introduced into the different establishments.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—James Fitzgerald, a recent arrival from Ireland, sustained serious injuries last Friday morning while making his way to the Junction. His own statements were very contradictory but as he was seen a short time before the departure of the midnight train, it is conjectured that before the train started from the east end he had taken a seat on the locomotive, just above the cow-catcher, and as he had been drinking heavily, it is supposed he lost his balance and fell off. He was found early next morning by some persons who heard his cries for help and as soon as possible was sent into town by Mr. A. Brown, the station agent. Dr. Clinton attended to his injuries which were found to be very serious, his body being crushed, while a long, deep gash disfigured the side of his head. He stated that he had no friends in this country. Every kindness was extended to him at the O'Connor House by the proprietor and railway officials. It was thought advisable to remove him to the general hospital at Kingston, and on Saturday morning he was accordingly sent down by the Hero to that city.

BIBLE SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Deseronto Branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society was held in the Union Sabbath School room on Monday evening. The chair was taken by Rev. D. O. Crossley, Vice President, who opened the meeting with the usual devotional exercises. The Secretary having read the minutes of the previous meeting the financial statement for the year was presented which showed the amount collected during the past year to be $35.85 a very marked increase on former years. The various officers and committees were then appointed and brief addresses delivered by Rev. Messrs Crossley and Craig, and the Secretary, Rev. D. Holpinkin, of Colborne, the indefatigable agent of the Society, then gave a very eloquent and instructive address containing much valuable information concerning the U. C. Society and its great work in Ontario. He recited during the past year had amounted to $30,063 and its sphere of usefulness was always extending. He also referred to the vast and continually increasing operations of the British and Foreign Bible Society the greatest of all instrumentalities for circulating the Scriptures at home and abroad. The following are the officers for the ensuing year:—E. W. Rathbun, President; Resident Clergymen, Vice Presidents: W. R. Aylsworth, Treasurer; S. Russell, Secretary; W. G. Eggar, Deputy Secretary; Wm. Irvine, T. Mallory, R. Goldin and I. Allum.—Standing Committee: Misses Wmman, Bradshaw, Piggin and Annie Whittell.—Collectors.

The Bantu Negro and His God.

I believe that much that is said about fetish-worship rests on no solid foundation: neither a kind of worship nor any serious service is addressed to the harmless toy we call a fetish, but only a mysterious good evil spirit is fancied to dwell within it. The receipts of the Napanee & Tanwong railway for the month of November showed a very marked increase over those of August. The freight traffic this month is assuming large proportions.

Mr. O'Brien, the contractor, is hurrying forward construction work and will put on another line of gravel in some regions. A party of fifty lads went back last week to work in the gravel pit.

Arrangements have been completed for the month of December. The trains on the different lines, thus ensuring good mail service for the back country.

The work of putting up poles and stretching wires for a telegraph service has commenced.

The village is ready to maintain that station is the prettiest and most convenient on the line.

There is a universal desire that the mission building at Tanwong and Bridgeport should be at once constructed.

Union Sabbath School.

The Superintendent of the Union Sabbath School announced last Sunday morning at the close of the exercises that he had intended to resign his position as superintendent of the school. He stated that as various churches had established schools of their own, there was now no necessity for the Union Sabbath School. He stated that he made this announcement, he remembered that for twenty-two years he had existed, doing its work quietly and he trusted effectually. It had for years cherished a bond of union between the different religious bodies, and he had no doubt the blessing of God had followed the steps of teachers in their humble efforts to instruct. Although a step backward, he had no doubt the opinions of the majority of teachers and others who desired to unite themselves with schools connected with the different churches. We have no doubt the Union Sabbath School has been formerly connected with the village, now scattered all over the continent, will with regret that this useful institution should so exist. It was established in the old school house, the first superintendent Mr. Jas. Bishop. He was succeeded by Mr. Nathan, Esq., who ever took a deep interest in its welfare. It is with no regret that we chronicle the fact of the dissolution of such an organization for the benefit of the Union Sabbath School.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, this hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the Vignette is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

Mr. C. P. BICHER writes from Kirby, O., July 1, 1887: "I lost fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became very bald. Used part of a bottle of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

Mr. J. W. DOWN, proprietor of the McArthur Hotel, Esplanade, writes: "AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is one of the most excellent preparations for the hair. I've seen evidence of its claims, experience, and use promoted the growth of new hair, and made me lose my bald spot. The Vignette is also a sure cure for dandruff, &c. Within six weeks I have had the preparation ever failed to give satisfaction."

MR. ANGELO FERRARESE, leader of the celebrated "Furbian Family" of Scotland Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 4, 1888: "Ever since my hair began to give signs of becoming thin, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, lecturers, actors, and in fact every one who cares to give a good impression of his public."

Mrs. O. A. PRATT, writing from St. Plais, St. Charles, Mass., April 4, 1887, says: "For years ago about two-thirds of my hair fell out. It thinned very rapidly, and was coming off in growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, it has fallen stopped, and a new growth continued, and in about a month my head was completely covered with pleasant hair. It has restored vigor, and is now as good as a life-giver. I feel like a new woman, and I thank you of the Vignette, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

them without extra trouble. We find no mention of the peripatetic advertisements which now greet our eyes on street corners in various outo and ridiculous garbs, because perhaps they may have had their origin from antiquity and the peripatetic philosophers, who studied and discussed their learned theories while perpetually perambulating the walks of the gymnasium. — [Philosophy]

The Tribune.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1884.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

FINE weather for fall ploughing.
PUMPKIN pies and husking bees are the go.

BUCKWHEAT flapjacks will soon be up to the "scratch."
A GREAT boom in job work at THE TRIBUNE office these days.

A YOUNG man named Dettlor was seriously stabbed last Saturday at Tawmorth.

GAS.—The streets have been illuminated by sawdust gas during the past week, a pleasing improvement these dark nights.

The Village Clerk inserts an important notice in our advertising columns to which the attention of all ratepayers is directed.

Mr. James D. Burgess and crew left for Coochill on Tuesday afternoon. They expect to be absent about six weeks at that place.

WHEN the northern breezes begin to blow, and we commence to get the snow, won't it be nice to go, in the evening to the show, with our best girl on our arm—just so.

THE readers of THE TRIBUNE will peruse Mr. Mallory's interesting letter with no ordinary pleasure. He gives a vivid description of the country and the customs of the Indians of that vicinity.

Mr. Charles Dryden and a crew of men started this week for Oswego to construct some more docks at that city, a mission much more pleasant than that on which they set out in the same direction this time last year.

A man named Delofes was arrested by Chief Gynouy for being drunk and disorderly, on Wednesday morning, and when brought before Mr. Aylsworth was given 30 minutes to depart for a more congenial clime.

ENORMOUS YIELD.—Mr. Samuel Croft, gardener for H. B. Rathbun, Esq., has succeeded in raising from a plot of land measuring about one-fifth of an acre the immense quantity of 12½ tons of mangel wurtzel beets. This beats the record.

Mr. Watson's night school is rapidly filling up. It would not be amiss for the school board to employ Mr. Watson to teach a night school at which boys unable to attend the day school might receive instruction during winter evenings free of charge.

TEACHERS CONVENTION.—The teachers of the Public Schools departed on Thursday morning, to attend the teachers convention at Belleville. The deliberations of such a body should result in a really needed boon to the cause of education in South Hastings.

Mr. Howatt, of Bay View, still continues to add to his immense stock of potatoes, the yield still keeping up. There are no indications of disease. His large field of fall cabbage is now a sight; one of the cabbages raised by him weighs 17½ lbs. He has a ditcher hard at work these days at draining operations.

THE pleasant event at Peterson's Ferry recorded in these columns under the proper heading was witnessed by a large party of friends. The TRIBUNE was not forgotten on the auspicious occasion, a fact of which the receipt of a large slice of bridal cake is the best of evidence. The happy couple have our best wishes.

CHEMICAL WORKS.—The Rathbun Company have given a contract to Mr. James R. Booth for the erection of a large purifying house for the manufacture of acid and tar. The building will be of brick with an iron roof and its size 28x40 feet. A charcoal shed has been erected south of the gas works, and other improvements are in progress.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.—A Sunday School in connection with the Presbyterian congregation will be organized next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Union Sabbath School room. All children connected with the congregation as well as those not members of other schools are cordially invited to be present on the occasion.

HAVE you tried that "Cider" that Geddis brought over from Prince Edward.

THE TRIBUNE until the end of 1885 for one dollar. A good time now to renew your subscription.

LARGE numbers of cattle have been going over the Grand Trunk of late to Montreal for shipment to Europe.

DR. IRISH, whose reputation as a skilled dentist is so widely known, finds his practice in Deseronto steadily increasing.

TELEPHONIC communication will be established immediately between the central office and the Reeve's mansion on the Napanee road.

The general meet of the American Canoe Association will take place next year at Grindstone Island, near Gananoque, the same place at which it was held last summer.

PARTIES desiring cheap, handsome and substantially bound copies of the Scriptures will find it to their advantage to call on Mr. Egar, depositary of the Bible Society.

HISTORIC FRUIT.—James E. Bowen, Esq., postmaster of Deseronto, very kindly brought us in a number of large apples, excellent in quality, grown on the historic U. E. Loyalist tree to which previous reference has been made in our columns.

EXPENSIVE CARS.—The Grand Trunk is building two magnificent cars at the Point St. Charles works at Montreal to replace those destroyed by the Eschering accident. They are built of Mahogany instead of walnut, have built smoking rooms, and cost each $18,000.

HICKORY NUTS.—The raids on hickory nuts have commenced. On Friday last Mr. C. E. Hubbs visited Carman's Point and returned home with three large bags of excellent samples. When properly dried, cracked and shelled he will report progress at the TRIBUNE office.

THE RESERVE.—Mr. Dingman, Inspector of Indian Agencies, in his recent tour of inspection found that a number of tenants had not complied with the terms of their lease. Such parties will be refused a renewal. The council sits in a few days to consider applications and release portions of the reserve.

THE SHERWOOD.—The remains of the tug Sherwood recently destroyed by fire have been raised from their watery bed and brought to Deseronto. They were hauled up on the marine railway and the hull broken up. The engine, boiler &c., not being much damaged will be utilized in a new boat.

RETURNED.—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Roberts returned home from their wedding tour last Saturday afternoon. On Monday evening they received a number of friends at Christ Church parsonage. The evening was passed most enjoyably by all present. The happy couple left yesterday for their new home in the west.

THE people of Deseronto will all be well pleased to learn that Mr. D. R. McKee has effected suitable arrangements with his creditors, and that he will resume his business at the old stand. His stock of goods is very varied and extensive and intending purchasers will find it to their advantage to give him a call before going elsewhere.

AT the meeting of the mission board of the Methodist church held in Kingston, Dr. Sutherland, general secretary, stated in his report that $160,000 had been subscribed for missions last year, and that the church entered this year free from debt. There is a general determination to accomplish even greater things this year. We hope to hear next week that Deseronto has doubled its contributions.

CHARIVARI.—Every resident of the town was just going to bed or had just fallen to sleep last Monday evening, when the crash of a cannon, followed by the clanging of bells announced the commencement of an old fashioned charivari. A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men; but on this occasion the limits of a fun were passed, and unfortunately some acts of rowdiness followed, property being damaged and other improprieties committed. This is to be regretted. It will be remembered that a few years ago some serious and fatal results followed such proceedings in some sections of this province, which elicited unqualified expressions of disapproval from the press of Ontario. It was then thought that the Charivari would become a thing of the past. A serene and good humored display of any kind is all very well so long as amusement does not degenerate into license.

THE members of the Deseronto Cornet Band authorize us to emphatically deny the statement that they had anything whatever to do with the recent charivari.

MAN was made to incur. No sooner does the cholera begin to manifest in Italy and France, than an outbreak of malarial fever follows in Deseronto and other unhappy communities. What is our board of health doing?

FINE.—The case of Catherine Maracle vs. Moses Maracle, charging assault, the Indian Reserve, was brought before the police magistrate of Belleville last Saturday morning, and the defendant fined $1 and costs which amount to $15.

CONCERT.—A concert under the auspices of the choir will be given in the Methodist church next Wednesday evening, 22nd inst., at 7:30 o'clock. An excellent programme has been arranged for the occasion which has for its object the purchase of new music books for the choir, any balance beyond that going to the Sabbath school purposes. There should therefore be a full house. Tickets only 10 cents.

BLUE RIBBON.—The Deseronto Temperance Society held a very successful meeting on Friday evening, 10th inst., the programme as published being carried out successfully to the letter. Speeches were given by Mr. M. W. Britton and others which evoked much enthusiasm. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—J. W. Bradbeer, President; A. Parham, V. P.; Mrs. J. W. Bradbeer, Treasurer; Robert Northmore, Secretary. A meeting for members only was held last evening.

METHODIST MISSIONS.—Missionary sermons will (D. V.) be preached in the Methodist Church, Deseronto, on Sabbath next Oct 19th. In the morning by Rev. M. L. Pearson of Napanee and in the evening by Rev. I. P. Wilson B. A. of Napanee. On Monday evening following, the regular missionary meeting will be held in the Church when addresses will be given by the above Rev. Gentlemen and others. Collection and Subscriptions will be taken on Monday evening in the interest of missionary work.

RAILWAY EXTENSION.—The work of construction on the N. T. & Q. Ry as far as Tawmorth will soon be completed. There is a great desire for the extension of the line to Bridgewater to afford connection with the C. P. R. and other systems, and at the same time bring Napanee and Deseronto in communication with the rich townships of Central and North Hastings, &c. The people of Elzevir and Hungerford are awake to the necessity of such a connection which would be to them so highly advantageous. They are preparing to do their part to ensure the success of the undertaking.

ACCIDENTS.—On Monday afternoon Mr. F. G. Jenkins while attending to some duties in the vicinity of the new dry kilns happened to fall and strike against a piece of timber, resulting in the fracture of one of the bones of his leg. The fracture was subsequently reduced by Dr. Clinton, and Mr. Jenkins is, we are glad to say, getting on well. On the same day Mr. Sidney Cronk, while working in the Cedar Mill, received a painful wound, caused by a bolt flying from the saw. He was attended by Dr. Newton, who reports him progressing favorably.

THE demonstration at the Murray canal on the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of one of the new bridges proved quite successful. The members of the Dominion Cabinet, who were present delivered eloquent addresses which were well received by all present. Hon. Mr. Bowell in an admirable speech recounted the different facts in connection with the early history of the undertaking which was first mooted in 1796. The ministers considered, after a careful inspection, that the route finally adopted is the correct one. The work will be pushed through with all speed, and it is expected will be completed in two years.

MR. HOWATT, of Bay View Farm, favors our readers this week with an interesting letter referring to what he saw during a recent visit to Boulter & Dunning's canning factory at Picton. This company is justly securing a world wide reputation for the superiority of its goods. At the recent East Hastings fair the display of fruit was one of the marked features of the exhibition, it being pronounced by competent critics as something superior. All these facts incite us to again urge the business men and capitalists of Deseronto to consider the advisability of starting a similar establishment at Deseronto which is particularly well situated to become the seat of such a desirable industry.

CHAPTER I.

mine! Mine t

My mother had married a clergyman, the Rev. Arthur Gordon, and I was their only child. They both died when I was a girl thirteen, and my father's sister, Annette Gordon, took charge of me.

had been Jean and Dine, about three nths, and had grown to love the place the people. I had just begun to put my philanthropic resolutions into shape, and the buildings were slowly rising beneath the hands of the many workmen engaged. The ent old mansion had been renovated—the of Sr William's bearded thousands had been spent upon it—and the grounds ent gardens had been rescued from the eds and long standing neglect. I had insured my staff of servants—indeed every-ing was in the very perfection of order—I was unboundedly happy. I was to be happy still, although the full light of the sun had been hidden from me for the present.

the novelty of my position had died away when the month of May came round. I might have been Miss Gordon of Jeumont in all my life, everything came so natural to me. The tenants liked and trusted me, the servants were devoted and obedient, my buildings were all in repair; I and my husband were happy beyond words in our grand old mansion. Our neighbors had no fault to find, but it was too soon after William's death for me to be contented with this. We were happy (though without taste—inited the hour of the day were used) but I longed for all the pleasant occupations we used to engage in. Aunt Anne was of your opinion, she said, "I have myself, when the moon was silvering the temples of the sea, it was no unusual thing to wander down to the shore and gaze at the moon and delight at the majestic influence it had on the elements." It was nearly twenty years since this great beating at my heart, a strange sense of being unusual. I felt more as though I ought to see a living person than a portrait.

Conductor was as elegant room facing west; a soft light glowed on the picture of the Master of Dunroon, Lord Saxon, seated in staid before it. She did not turn to me and say, "That is my son." I looked at the portrait, I seemed to know instinctively he could not help his love of the past, and why, women loved him as they loved me. It was a handsome, even attractive face. The kindly pose of the mouth, the well-defined features, the dark, curly hair, the brown, the deep-set eyes that were full of pride and passion—eyes that were not the power of controlling others.

ative to commerce, as it was ten or years ago, reforms must be made in as mentioned above.—[Correspond-

PICTON

(From our own Correspondent.)
John Selby is the town sportsman last week, showing he has met with some success.

Large flocks of wild geese have been moving South of late, an indication of an early winter. A few flocks of snow geese were seen west of the town on Friday last.

Mr. J. J. Tilley, Inspector of Model Schools, was in town last week and delivered a lecture in the town hall on the evening of a good sized audience. The educational institutions of the town appear to be in a prosperous condition. Our High School passed a greater number of students at the summer examinations than any similar school in Ontario.

The County Fair postponed the competition of driving horses owing to the rain on the first day of the fair 8th inst. until Saturday last, when a good many turned out to see the various classes on exhibition. The prizes for the best driving by a lady caused quite an excitement as the horses were pretty fast and quite evenly matched. Miss Emma Vanclue, of Pictou, won first prize for best lady driver, and Mrs. Gilbert Hull, of Hamilton, and Benjamin Story won 1st prize for 3 year old colt in roadster class, his colt showing remarkable speed for a 3 year old.

SHANNONVILLE

(From our own correspondent.)

The schooner Jessie McDonald cleared from Lester's storehouse a few days since with 5000 bushels of barley. The balance of her cargo was taken at Belleville and Deseronto. The price at present are so low that there is no inducement to the farmer to leave his fall ploughing and other work to market and produce as that can be attended to when the season closes up.

When there is a general movement of grain the season will prove to be about an average.

Harvest Thanksgiving services were held in the Trinity Church of this village on Sabbath last. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the offerings liberal. Even in the scarcity of money, the heart of the faithful pastor must be made glad, and his larger replenished out of the abundance with which a bountiful Providence has blessed the people.

The revival services continue with unabated interest in the Melrose Church, the church being crowded every night.

Mrs. Codd, daughter of Mr. James Codd, is home on a visit to her parents and friends, from Saginaw, Michigan. On her return a week hence, Miss Jane Vicar will accompany her, and spend the winter with her sister there.

Mr. Henry Brown returned to his family on Saturday last after spending the summer in British Columbia. "Long looked for come at last."

Mr. W. L. Roberts, and his beautiful young bride returned to his father's on Thursday, after a prolonged bridal trip to New York, and on Friday left for his home in the West.

Mr. John Smith, of the rear concessions, was arrested yesterday by Mr. Alton, for forgery, and safely lodged in jail at Belleville early this morning. It seems that this arrest has been in contemplation for some time, and successfully accomplished at last.

VENNAOCHAR

(From our own Correspondent.)

Again I take my pen in hand To let you know I am a man.

After having a talk with a man not far from here, I am fully persuaded, and will always believe there is such a thing as "untruth." Our conversation was about guns, and as a natural consequence, the man brought on his own gun. I said I had found up hunting considerable, and always found my gun to prove true, both in shooting up and down hills. I recalled to mind an instance where I had shot around a hill and killed a deer. Of course I meant I had shot and the ball had struck nothing but a "round hill," and that sometime afterwards I killed a deer. Cole took a wrong conception of what I said. He also thought I was getting to the front in telling him, and consequently he began to brag. He said when I was a boy I lived with my father near a large barrow meadow, and in fly time, when the weather was very hot and the flies were numerous, I used to take my double-barrelled gun and go out in the meadow to shoot deer. Well, one very hot day I shot a deer as so great a distance from me that he could get where it was, it was spoiled, and the smell was something terrible. So I finally resolved to load one barrel of my gun with salt and pepper. I shot the deer, with the salt, I would then shoot the salt into him, to prevent the meat from spoiling till he was reached. This I had to do, for my gun would shoot so far, I said Cole, and drove off. I have since sent for a leather mule for him. I saw Cole a few days afterwards, and he asked him if his gun was well. He laughed and that was all he said. He was engaged in cutting marsh hay that had been badly frozen. I told him that was not worth cutting. He replied Scott, that will be better than a snow bank to feed in the winter. Cole said, "I would be money in your hands. If you would make shingles that I sell them, you could then feed the shavings and that would be as good as the hay. Well, he told me to skin and save him. I returned.

A grand tea meeting was held last Saturday evening in the new church at Instat vachan and an excellent time was enjoyed.

Mr. James Johnson, of Griffith, was a guest of Mr. P. A. Scott, a few days.

Mr. Olinore, of the same place, paid a flying visit to Mr. George Sweetman's-I mean his daughter of course.

Deseronto Cornet Band

The Deseronto Cornet Band still continues to increase in numbers and to receive cordial support on every side. They have been since their formation unwearied in their efforts to improve their music, and by constant practice have met with deserved success. They have been making a series of excursions, and it is pleasing to find that in every case they have been well received and generously treated. On Thursday evening, 10th inst., they marched to the residence of the Reeve on the Napanee road, where having played a number of selections, they were invited inside the hospitable mansion and served with a plentiful service of refreshments by Mr. and Mrs. Aylsworth. They had the most pleasant time of their lives, and the Reeve said that the Corporation had not power legally to give them a grant, a fact which he regretted. He was glad to testify to the marked progress they had made and hoped to hear of continued improvement. Before leaving he made a generous contribution to the Uniform fund. The following amounts have been received for this fund:—H. B. Rathburn, Esq., $10.00; T. Brown, $1.00; R. Cronk, $2.00; W. Hurry, $2.00; M. Doolittle, $5.00; J. Cameron, $3.00; P. O'Connor, $5.00; W. Kirk, $5.00; J. Nolan, $4.00; W. Irvine, $5.00; J. W. Dwyer, $5.00; J. McCullough, $5.00; Rev. T. Stanton, $5.00; Jna. Will, $5.00; John Macleod, $5.00; Jas. Burgess, $5.00; C. Oliver, $3.00; F. Doughtine & Bro., $5.00; W. H. Aylsworth, Esq., $10.00; W. Roberts, $5.00; Rev. E. H. M. Baker, $2.50; R. H. Trimble, $5.00; Foresters, $1.20; R. N. Irvine, $1.00; A. Snider, $1.00; Social, Concerts, &c. $62.78. Total, $167.49.

SAYING GOOD-BYE

We clip the following from the Kingston Whig:—"A jovial company met last evening in Old Sam's restaurant and for several hours spent a merry time. The occasion was a 'farewell' to Mr. Charles Doherty, who was for two years engaged in the employment of the Rathburn Agency here. His removal to Deseronto created a surprise, but it evidenced that he was advancing in the esteem of his employers, and therefore his friends agreed to give him a proper send off. The spread in the private dining hall was very complete. Everything suited the appetite admirably. The supper was sufficient to throw everybody into good humor, hence songs and speeches which followed were exceedingly felicitous, though regret was expressed on all sides at the departure of one who had so unobtrusively 'stood in with the boys.' During the evening Mr. Doherty was brought to his feet in consequence of the presentation to him of a nicely worded address and a pretty scarf pin. Mr. Allan Chalkwick performed the duties of chairman and during the evening claimed the chief attention of a company, when Capt. R. Crawford, Ald. Edleson, Staff-Sergeant. Leadon Messrs. J. Crawford, J. G. Elliott, A. Hoppus, J. Livingston, R. Reid and G. Hyland made brief addresses. In leaving Kingston Mr. Doherty takes with him the best wishes of his many friends."

Though numerous causes may operate to turn the fair price, all that is needed to restore the natural color is Hill's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Restorer. For more than twenty years its sales have been enormous, but we have yet to learn of its first failure.

ARTHUR CARTER.

AYER'S

Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifling with the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a remedy well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1881 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. It also induced cure of the PHTHISIS, a permanent cure was effected. I am now of years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL, saved me."

HENRY E. FARMINGTON, Brockington, Va., July 15, 1882.

Group—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup, and I feared for the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and a bottle of this was always kept in the house. This was tried, and in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing again. The doctor said that the croup was a very dangerous ailment, and that if not cured, it would have proved fatal. Can you wonder at our gratitude?"

Sincerely yours, Mrs. KATHA GIBNEY, 152 West 12th St., New York, N.Y.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to say it is the most effective remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried."

Lake Crystal, Minn., March 15, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Phthisis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL."

W. J. NAYTH, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing it is the best remedy for all lung troubles."

W. J. NAYTH, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

The offspring bred from greatly dissimilar parents, either sire or character, should never be used for breeding pup-sas; their offspring will not clearly prove to be mongrels of nondescript character. That the parents should be as similar as possible is a rule the neglect of which has led to more disappointment than almost any other rule I know of.

The Tribune.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1894.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

MR. R. H. BAKER offers a farm to rent at Adolphustown. See advt.

A few flakes of snow on Thursday afternoon, the first of the season.

SCAN our advertising columns very closely this week before making any purchases.

THE prospects are more than ordinarily favorable for a very large run of white fish this season.

ANDERSON, the watchmaker, makes some changes in his advertisement this week to which the attention of our readers is directed.

PAINTERS are now busy at work painting the handsome residence of Mr. John McCallagh, the color selected being a nice shade of green.

MR. HOWATT, of Bay View Farm, makes some important statements which will be found of great interest to the public. Read his advertisement.

MR. THOMAS PIDGEN received an ugly blow on the face last week by the sudden fall of one of the boxes which discharge wood into the carts at the Big Mill.

SHADE TREES.—Messrs. T. Roach, Jr., and Thos. Pidgen are busy preparing places for setting out shade trees in the vicinity of the Cedar Mill and Big Mill.

A congregational meeting of a social character under the auspices of the Kirk-session will be held in the Church of the Redeemer next Tuesday evening.

HALLOWEEN parties are organizing, and the mischievous small boy is busy planning tricks on peaceful people. The old and popular feast falls on Friday, 31st inst.

MR. WATSON KIRK of the Indian Store has had a great rush to his establishment this week the result of a revolution which he effected in the price of his choice groceries and provisions.

BARRELS.—There is a great demand for barrels this year on account of the enormous crop of apples. The Napanee Cement Company have already sold 3,000 and have orders for many more.

MR. RICHARDSON, the energetic manager of the Big Store, as will be seen elsewhere in these columns, has a scheme to bridge the gap of Quinte and thus secure purchasers from Prince Edward.

THE CONTRACT.—The Rathburn Company have secured the contract for supplying the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk railway with the necessary quantity of ties for repairs and extensions.

BEEES FOR SALE.—Mr. Thos. Wadforth offers 40 or 50 hives of bees for sale at his residence at Green Point. They are in excellent condition and if not disposed of by private sale will be sold by auction on November 10th.

FERRY.—It is rumored that Mr. William Powells and Dr. Oroniyatekha are negotiating at Toronto for a powerful steamer, to be placed on the ferry route above this town. This is next best to the erection of a bridge, as recently suggested by THE TRIBUNE.

SALE OF DEBENTURES.—We learn that Mr. Aylworth has been successful in placing the debentures recently issued by the village for school purposes at a considerable premium. They have been taken by Mr. and Miss Bogart, of Napanee.

POWDER MILL.—The Hamilton Powder Company are seeking for a suitable locality for the erection of a new powder mill. Capt John's island would be just the place for such a booming industry. It would be well to direct the attention of the Company to that fact.

APPROX of the practicability of navigating the Hudson Bay and straits a question much discussed at present Mr. F. G. Ross informs us that he sailed from Moose Factory some years ago and after a pleasant voyage reached England, encountering no obstruction from ice during the voyage.

The barge industry has undergone considerable repairs in the shipyard and is ready for next year's work.

The issuer of marriage licenses reports a brisk fall trade, and is correspondingly happy. Give him a call.

MR. GEDDIS, the energetic collector of rates, is now on the warpath. Be sure to give him a cordial reception.

CHIEF SAMPSON GREEN lost a very valuable cow the other day, it having fallen in the barn and broken its leg.

Work on the new Methodist parsonage is rapidly progressing. It will be a handsome and comfortable residence.

RUMBLINGS.—There has been much stir in local railroad circles this week, large numbers of cars passing over the line carrying grain and lumber.

GEDDIS is receiving large importations of splendid oysters every day, and as a consequence his popular restaurant is crowded nightly with worshippers of the luscious bivalve.

ELECTRIC.—Mr. Solomon McAdam is out on the N. T. & Q. Ry erecting the new telegraph line. Under the able tuition of Mr. Hampton, Sol is fast becoming an expert in his new profession.

BIRTHDAY SOCIAL.—An exceedingly pleasant birthday gathering took place on Wednesday evening at the residence of Capt. Anderson. The large party present spent a most happy and enjoyable evening.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH.—Mr. Scott, contractor, has commenced the erection of the U. E. Loyalist memorial tower of All Saints Church (Upper Mohawk). It will be built of stone, will cost $700, and be completed this fall.

LARGE CONVENTIONS of temperance workers will be held in Madoc and Stirling, on the 28th and 29th inst., respectively, to prepare for the campaign in favor of the Scott Act. All supporters of the Act are invited to attend.

MR. W. R. McRAE, who has been on the engineering staff of the N. T. & Q. Ry. all summer, has arrived in town and is now engaged on a plan giving the topography of the Bay View farm, for drainage and other purposes.

BUILDING STONE.—There are some fine quarries of building stone on the line of the N. T. & Q. Ry. between Newburgh and Clarke's Mills. A quantity is to be quarried and brought to Deseronto in order to test its adaptability to building purposes.

ON TRIAL.—The trial of the Zulef charged with a series of burglaries, commenced in Belleville on Monday before Mr. Justice Galt, the jury having brought in a true bill against the prisoners. A number of witnesses went up from this place to give evidence.

MR. MERRIFIELD, of Worcester, Mass., who has been in town this week, erected one of the first saw mills in the New England states. He visited the Big Mill and expressed surprise at the wonderful improvements which have been effected in machinery since those early days.

METHODIST PULPIT.—The people of Deseronto will be glad to know that Rev. I. O. Mallory will preach in the Methodist church next Sabbath both morning and evening. Rev. D. O. Crossley goes to Brighton for Sabbath next to conduct the anniversary services of the Main Street Methodist Church.

CHEMICAL WORKS.—Work is being vigorously prosecuted on the new buildings at the Chemical works. A super-heater has also been placed in position to supply super-heated steam for the fuel press and sawdust drier at the same works. Mr. Davis is busy preparing plans for another large furnace for the works.

PUBLIC WORKS.—Commissioner Stewart has laid down two fine cross-ings at the junction of Mill and Dundas streets. He has also been remedying some defects at the opening of the main sewer in the west end. Work on the sewer on East Thomas street has been commenced. This undertaking is a sanitary necessity whose results must prove beneficial.

LIGHTHOUSE.—The Rathburn Company received a contract from the Dominion government for the erection of a lighthouse on the end of the steamboat wharouse in this town and for the necessary care of the same when constructed. This is a step in the direction of providing a series of lights on the bay preparatory to the increased traffic likely to ensue from the opening of the Murray canal. Very much credit is due to John White, Esq., the member for the riding, for his active exertions in securing this desirable public work.

NAVIGATION.—The steamer Utica, Capt. Jos. Helms, commander, left on Wednesday for Gananoque where she takes the place of the Puritan which comes to Deseronto to receive extensive repairs for next season. Capt. Flynn sailed with the Reliance to Toronto the other day with a cargo of one hundred tons.

A representative of the Union Publishing Company, of Ingersoll, was in town this week securing information for a farmer's and classified business directory for the counties of Addington, Frontenac, Hastings, Lennox, Leeds and Prince Edward for year 1894-95. The work will be very complete and will no doubt, have a large circulation.

TYENDINGA RESERVE.—Mr. Dingman, inspector of Indian agencies, went west this week, but will return on Monday, on which day a board, consisting of the inspector, Mr. Hill, the local agent, and the members of the Indian Council, will meet in the town hall, Deseronto, to commence the releasing of the Reserve for another term of years.

PROMOTIONS.—Mr. Chas. Doherty, of the Kingston agency, has been promoted to a position in the Central Office of the Rathburn Company. He assumes the position recently held by Mr. Alex. McGaughy, who has been advanced to the charge of the shipping department. Both gentlemen have our hearty congratulations.

INDIAN CENTENAL.—A number of the residents of the Tyendinga Reserve are this week attending the Centennial and Agricultural Fair of the Six Nation Indians, at Brantford. This celebration will last four days. Among the visitors are Mr. Hill, Miss Lydia Hill, Solomon Loft and wife, Mrs. David Smith, Samuel Claus, Joseph John and F. Claus.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—The Bay of Quinte Railway would hereby intimate to the public generally that they have effected arrangements with the Canadian Express Company whereby, on and after the 1st prox, the rates charged on express matter to and from Deseronto will be considerably less than ever before. They hope to ensure a large increase of express business by the reduction.—ADVT.

MANY express approval of the suggestion to the school board to employ Mr. Watson to give instruction in the winter evenings, or, at least, giving him permission to occupy a department of the public school, with maps, etc., for that purpose. Every encouragement should be given to young lads desirous of turning their evenings to advantage. It is gratifying to learn that many are actually doing so.

POLICE CIRCLES.—On Monday evening Chief Gonyou arrested John Smith, of Tyendinga, who is accused of obtaining money under false pretences from John Outwater, of Tyendinga, on the 19th of February, 1876. The amount involved is over $600. The Chief brought him to Shannonsville where he delivered him to Constable Steel, who had been searching for him in vain for a considerable time. He was subsequently brought before police magistrate Flint for trial.

DITCHING OPERATIONS.—Ditching operations on the "Bay View Farm" are being carried on very extensively this fall. It is worth while going a long way to see Mr. Tompkins handle four horses driven abreast, while he manages at the same time the many levers connected with the ditching machine. We noticed a ditch 120 rods long and not yet filled in, which was so perfectly graded that water was running like a little river down the centre of the drain. The whole operation is very interesting and Messrs. Joseph Alfred and Jacob Marsh merit much praise for their careful attention to true grading and the safety of the machine; not one serious break having occurred since they began operations.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH (UPPER MOHAWK).—The Harvest Festival service at All Saints on Sunday, 12th Oct. was a complete success, saving that unfortunately wine was not provided for the Holy Communion, in consequence of which there was no Celebration and upwards of 50 Communicants were disappointed. The decorations which were so well executed as to be beyond praise, included the apparent institution of stained and plain glass in all the windows, an effect which was wrought by the use of tissue paper of various hues. Miss Hill, the organist had her choir out in full force and the Canticles and Hymns were unusually well rendered. The Congregation completely filled the church. The decorations will remain up until after next Sunday that they may be seen by those who were unable to be present on the 12th. inst.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1884.

The annexation of Jamaica to the Dominion is a question which is at present receiving the attention of Canadian statesmen. The project which in the west is meeting with considerable opposition is viewed much more favorably by the people of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces who see in that island a good opening for enlarged trade. The people of Jamaica are evidently favorable to the proposed scheme, and the same may be said of the other West Indian islands which have for several years been suffering from severe business depression. There is no doubt that many difficulties would for a time have to be encountered, as a large mass of the population is said to be unfitted for self-government. We know something of bribery and corruption in Canada and matters could not be much worse in Jamaica, so that the evils which it is feared would arise from the accession of a large number of illiterate voters would not probably be so very formidable. The West India Islands have immense resources capable of unlimited development and the change might in many ways prove beneficial. The people pay at present most exorbitant amounts for salaries of officials, and local government. Annexation would direct the revenues mis-spent in such a manner into more useful channels. While all prudence should be exercised before committing the country to the scheme, there is no necessity of undue timidity in the policy to be pursued. If, after careful consideration, the proposed union would seem to burden Canada with no crushing financial burden we can see no reason why the West India Islands should not join the great confederation of British North American colonies.

CONGREGATIONAL SOCIAL.

The congregation of the Church of the Redeemer enjoyed a pleasant social in the Church on Tuesday evening. The event was under the auspices of the Kirk-session and consisted of addresses by several members of that body, readings, and music, both vocal and instrumental. The social was rendered with more than ordinary acceptance by Mrs. Campbell and Miss Anderson, and a feast by Misses Barnhart and Anderson was also well received. Mrs. Craig rendered several selections on the organ and piano with her wonted taste and skill. The readings by J. W. Dyer and R. B. J. Craig did credit to the elocutionary powers of both those gentlemen. During the evening an adjournment was made to the lecture room, in which some apartment was reserved for the social. The assembly was soon seated around a number of tables displaying a bountiful supply of refreshments. This part of the programme was provided by the ladies, those fair, though possibly at times stern of countenance, presiding at the tables with much grace and dignity. The pleasure of the evening was greatly enhanced by the presentation of an address to W. R. Aylworth Esq., by the Kirk-session and Board of Managers of the congregation. The presentation was made by K. W. Radburn Esq., who, in a preliminary address, referred to the many obligations under which the congregation was placed, by Mr. Aylworth and the pleasure all had in thus acknowledging it. Mr. Aylworth responded in suitable terms, expressing his gratitude for the address, and the congregation's kindness and wishing the church all success in the future. The address, which was most elegantly engrossed and illuminated and included in a handsome frame, is given below:

ADDRESSES.

To W. R. Aylworth, Esq.

We, the members of the Kirk-session and Board of Managers of the congregation of the Church of the Redeemer in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada, gladly take this opportunity to give expression to our appreciation of the valuable services which you have for so many years rendered to the congregation.

As Treasurer of the Board of Managers you have cheerfully given time and attention to advance the interests of the congregation, and we willingly testify to the obligations under which we have been placed, and the invaluable aid you have afforded us by your counsel and experience.

These services are enhanced, in our estimation, by the fact that they have been rendered by one, who, in the midst of his avocations to his own community, has been able to find time to give to this congregation his time and his heart, and in the true spirit of Christian charity, found it possible to give friendly assistance to another branch of the Church of our common Master.

While regretting that it does, in some measure, deprive us of your presence and the benefit of your assistance, we cannot but rejoice in the late auspicious union of the Methodist and the Presbyterian churches in the Dominion of Canada and desire to congratulate the congregation of the Church of the Redeemer on the harmony and prosperity which have continued to follow the event.

Finally, while hoping that we may continue to be indebted to you for counsel and advice, we earnestly wish to be in the cause of Him that "is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy."

Deseronto, Oct. 27, 1884.

A few good Overcoats at the Big Store, 1000 Main St., to be sold cheap.

Do not fail to inspect the stock of ladies' children's Hosiery at the Big Store. For quality and price they are unequalled.

B. of Q. RAILWAY.

Six carloads of doors and moldings were exported to Great Britain from Deseronto during October.

Superintendent Browne has been over at Pictou arranging for an increase of travelling facilities during the winter months between Pictou and Deseronto.

Section foreman Wager has been improving the siding facilities at the east end of the town to accommodate the increase in traffic. The trucks at the west end of the town give evidence of his skill and judgment in such matters.

Over 1,700 carloads of freight have passed over the line so far this season. An increase of 50 per cent over last year.

Since the great reduction in the price of sugar at the Big Store they have sold on an average 4 barrels daily. Farmers as well as residents of the village should take advantage of the low price at which the Big Store is selling this indispensable article and secure their winter stock while they can get it at wholesale prices. A word to the wise is sufficient.

N. T. & Q. RY.

Barley is moving freely and farmers rejoice that the new method of shipment is a great saving of time giving them more time for ploughing and at the same time saving the country route.

The mails will be started over the line on Saturday. The postal department send a mail clerk from Toronto by the morning train, and from Pictou by the noon train. Arrangements have also been completed for a good side service.

No. 24, the contractor's engine, was disabled on Monday and has been sent to Belleville for repairs.

Mr. J. M. Peitras has been out on the line arranging to place lumber and building material at the different stations along the line.

The indications now are that the difficulty in the drowned lands has been overcome.

Mr. W. H. Chisholm, one of the contractors of the N. T. & Q. Ry., is making good progress on his railway contract near New Brunswick, having ten miles ready for the rails.

Superintendent Sherwood went to Toronto yesterday, being summoned there by the illness of his sister, Miss A. Sherwood.

Chief Engineer Butler and W. R. Aylworth Esq. are inspecting the Thousand Islands Railway at Gananoque with a view to some improvements.

Secretary Williams was at Tamworth and other stations on Thursday in connection with railway business.

A constant improvement is evident in the matter of tidying up the right of way, improving crosses, opening ditches, etc., evidencing energetic management and competent section foremen.

Chief Engineer Butler having finished dock repairs at Oswego, may be expected to take a hand at the settlement of the drowned lands difficulty.

The construction of the telegraph line is progressing rapidly. Mr. Hampton will attend to the making of connections with stations and otherwise directing the electric current into proper channels.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS set directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, and the numerous testimonials which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A sufferer from Headache writes:

"AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant guardian. I have been a sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest pills I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers."

The prisoners Zudelt and Frall were sentenced to seven years each in the penitentiary for their recent burglarious actions. The woman Harrigan was sent for six months to the Mercer Reformatory.

Care of the Insane.

To the Editor of the Tribune:

For the first time I am in receipt of your neatly gotten up paper, "THE TRIBUNE," of September 25th, in which issue you have noticed the article of a Belleville daily, referring to the present means of placing lunatics in the jail with prisoners. You advised that this barbarous custom is unworthy of this great province. I am, sir, of the same opinion. Just think of an insane person in the jail for over 3 weeks, perfectly naked with other prisoners, some of which are boys of 10 or 12 years of age, with others who have perhaps committed no other crime than having taken a few glasses too much and not a few who have not yet been proven guilty of any crime. The jail officials, the prisoners as well as the insane, are suffering from this custom. We boast of our charities, civilization, our morality, and of our care for the poor, which I love and prize, yet all the beauty loses its charms when these bad customs and regulations come to our notice.

It would not be very expensive to remedy this great evil as a special place for lunatics could be easily erected if they have the right to be cared for as they should. I hope I shall see the day soon when this matter shall be examined by the proper authorities and soon be rectified.

I remain, yours truly,
ANSEL SCHUSTER,
City Missionary, Belleville.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 2, 1888."

"Dear Mother: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the enclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous cure."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS.

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of"

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to bleed at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS.

ATEN'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Itchiness, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus cures vitality and strengthens the whole system.

Sweet Corn as a Forage Plant.

covered with manure—mind, I say "covered," not sprinkled. This was plowed under; the ground harrowed and furrows made three feet apart: the seed was then scattered in the furrows by hand, and a harrow was run lengthwise over the furrows to cover it. The same work may be done with a drill. As soon as the corn was well up, a cultivator was run through once in a row, and twice afterwards it was cultivated, working close up to the corn. Once it was gone over, and the weeds in the rows pulled out. There was no hoeing, as it was not necessary. It was kept mellow and clean.

In the fireplace, from about the first of September, the temperature for about two weeks was middle warm, upon the surface towards the middle air, there was the appearance of having been super-heated, and where this condition exists, was also found the water soaked condition, and that was, the conditions named, existed only upon those portions of the trees most exposed, or facing the south; hence, upon the interior of the tree, or upon its northerly side, was not found the same conditions. Whether there is any connection of the different conditions named, and the result mentioned, I am not prepared to state, but simply mention the same that others may give expression to, and in some cases, by observation, find some like similar cases.

Caring for Tuberose Bulbs

ing of the bulbs through the winter. If they are exposed to frost, either in the spring, before lifting, or during winter, they will be greatly damaged if not wholly killed. The bulbs should be lifted as early as possible, and should be taken from the ground before there is any danger of a killing frost, because if the top is badly frozen the influence of frost on the bulb will be greatly increased in a sunny place, so as to become as thoroughly dried as possible, and when so dried, securely placed in a box or basket and conveyed to a warm, dry closet to remain until the spring. If the bulbs are lifted during the winter, all hopes of future beauty will be blasted, and the enjoyment derived from a full bloom of spikes (if tuberoses should be a sufficient inducement for exerting due diligence in their proper protection.

be destroyed. For that reason, in the fall, they should be killed and the carcasses should be buried. There is no danger of a killing frost, because if the top is badly frozen the influence of the wind will be so great that the carcasses, exposed in a sunny place, so as to become as thoroughly dried as possible, and when so dried, securely placed in a box or barrel, will not be liable to rot, and will be able to remain during the winter. If chilled at all during the winter, all hopes of future use will be lost. And the enjoyment derived from a full bloom of spices & tuberoses should be a sufficient inducement for exportation. Use diligence in their proper protection.

There is one thing it seems impossible to do—to make sheep so well in a stable in winter as to be able to stand out in the open at pasture, with a little grain. In winter they eat better, and with some roots, hay and grain, they will gain rapidly. But in summer, when the price of grain is so low, I am going to feed them. I do not much expect to get any profit on the food, only to keep the sheep in good condition. It will be the fine lot of manure to be made from such food, this will pay for all of the trouble and the grain goes for the sheep. The market for manure is so good, that some market in their own houses, is just what never enters the heads of most farmers. How much more wisdom than I have shown in this plan to buy manure and get some animals to fatten, and so keep the grain at home, than to take it away to market, and then to buy manure at a price which I can raise it at so much better advantage.

A gentleman who had bred Ma'lay fowl for thirty years, and won more prizes with these fowls than any other fancier in England, says that breeding in-and-in does not necessarily cause deterioration, but all depends how this thing is managed. My plan is to keep about five or six runs, and to rear 200 chickens each year, and to select the best birds from each run for crossing. I thus secure sufficient crossing to prevent deterioration. Many animals are gregarious and the males must frequently pair with their own daughters, for they expel the young males as well as all intruders.

Does Death Sting?

Fortunately, for a wholesome study of one's demise, there are assurances abundant, from vilification, the testimony of those who have been there, and the conventional affirmations of the dying, that there is no physical recoil from death. Burnswy tried hard to resist the efforts made to resuscitate him from drowning, so he could tell the by-standers that he was not dead. But the traveller, was so delighted with the sensations of excessive cold, that he was the first to lie down in the snow to realize the luxury of such a death. Win. Hester was very happy to die, and he was not alone. It is a delightful it is to "die." Infants die as serenely as they breathe, and not a few among the advanced in years treat death as a friend to be desired, and a relief from the suffering reported as that distressing procedure. But it is stated that those who have been saved from strangulation, that the agony promises to be brief, and was rapidly replaced by

One would vainly believe that the kind God who suffered us to feel no high in coming would take no delight in turning our farewell into wretchedness—nay, He does not quit us at the last. He is our greatest benefactor in allowing us to sleep out of weariness. Death is, assuredly, no tax collector; its "jaws" are not the clutches of an avenging spirit; there is no "victory to the grave"; the ghost spends away from us as it entered, with no ruff. The sense of death, as Shakespeare has it, is most in apprehension. It is the fear of the lonely night, not the throes of nature, that makes the leaving painful.

Extravagance in Speech.

Of all the extravagant habits, which bring trouble to one's neighbors, as well as to one's self, is that of extravagant speaking. How many a reputation has been injured, how many a business credit impaired, by an extravagant mode of speech—a remark with a grain of truth as a basis, embellished and exaggerated by the force of the proper comparisons, the harm is done forthwith. Extravagant professions of love, or friendship, or respect, or admiration, are like the wind on the feeling—it will not last long. Extravagance in religion leads to bigotry, in politics to demagoguery. In the press, unnecessary and untruthful statements are made, and to it goes. Let us recommend to those of our readers afflicted with the vice—in a great measure cured by the use of the pen—"Romeo": "Love moderately," and bear in mind that moderation will insure tranquility of mind and a peaceful domestic circle.

A few weeks since there arrived in an eastern city from St. Augustine, Fla., a gentleman who had been traveling in the interior of that state, despite the hot weather; on important business, which led him in the vicinity of that well-known section the "Everglades." Fortunately for the gentleman in question, he remembered that an old friend had bought land near the route he was taking, and had there planted an orange grove, and it occurred to him that here was an opportunity for enjoying Florida hospitality, which had hitherto only reached him through the familiar means of hotels.

His friend's orange grove covered about

Mr. Romaine either perceived this fact or was himself so full of his subject that he could not keep it secret, for he observed, as they were enjoying their wine after dinner: "You came in good time to witness a sensation, Canada."

"I had the impression from your manner there was something stirring. What is it?"

"Well, in brief, it is a ghost story. Several of us are going down into the Everglades to inspect for ourselves certain mysterious phenomena of a supernatural character which are said to make their appearance every ten years at this time."

"You surprise me. Have you any idea of the origin of the story?"

"Yes; I know the story and will tell it later on. The occurrences happened about thirty years ago, and every ten years, on the 11th of August, which is to-night, they say that startling scenes occur near a deep black pool, where we shall go presently."

The party, as made up, consisted of three or four of Mr. Romayne's neighbors himself and Mr. Cannaday, and at about ten o'clock the same night they started from the house, guided by an old negro who, Mr. Romayne said, had lived with Mr. Millamont when the scene had occurred which it is supposed has given rise to the ghostly appearance.

Taking lanterns, the parties moved in single file through the plantation, and the bowler, the negro, started a pair of buzzards. After a careful pause, the bowler stepped over humus, among vines and underbrush through the swamps of the Everglades, brought them to the side of a large mass of rock which stood on its margin. The pool was about half an acre in extent, the bowler and Mr. Romanay, the hunter, a few feet apart, and the bowler was a dry spot, large enough for a party to huddle together upon it; and there having first extinguished their lanterns, the two men took up their positions and waited silently. Through the dense masses of foliage above their heads the stars could be seen shining, reflected in the water, and the bowler heard in the creek of a frog or the sharp cry of some aquatic bird could be heard, and save that it was still, damp, and generally a little disagreeable, the night was not unlike what when the silence was suddenly broken by the bowler, as usual as to fairly curdle the blood. It was repeated in a moment, and again, and again, and again, and again, as though of someone escaping from pursuit. It drew nearer and nearer and presently stifled cries and the panting of the bowler's horse were heard. The gentlemen had risen to their feet, and, standing with their backs against the huge bowler, peered into the direction whence the sound came. A bloodhound, lying in the deep bay of a bloodhound, pierced the night, and again that awful shriek—plainly that of a woman, startled by her ears and then reached the summit. The whole situation was plainly visible. Springing upon the other two, who stood locked in each other's arms, the elder man tore them apart, the effort falling at his feet. Then there was a fiercest struggle, and in a moment the stronger man seized the other around the waist and, with a gigantic straddle, hung the weaker man by the neck. The weaker man, however, saw the water close over his form with a sluggish ripple—almost something white flashed through the air, there was a last bubbling cry—and instantly darkness came again, and there was neither dog nor man, nor anything but a black pool, as still as ever, the dense forest and the great boulder.

With one accord the parties lighted the interruption hurried from the spot. Arrived at the homestead, Mr. Rymayne called for spirit and food, and, indeed, all the necessary things were at hand. He will score party never returned from anywhere. "There is no story to tell," replied Mr. Rymayne, "but I will tell you what I have witnessed it all—exactly as it happened. I described to me over and over again. I was in the company of Mr. Millmont, who owned this place and his wife. The young girl was his daughter, the young man the son of a neighboring planter, who was her lover. They were all together, and, in trifling them together, chafed them with his dog, and when they climbed upon the rock and were about to jump, he seized them, and in his rage threw the young man into the pool. The same plunged after him and both were drowned. Mr. Millmont left them to rot, and he could be seen there and was reported to have been drowned at St. Augustine two weeks after. His place was cleaned without a moment until he bought it."

The next morning Mr. Cannaday left for St. Augustine, and now the story in various forms is being circulated through the south. This is his version of it, as an eye and ear witness. And he believes his eyes and ears. —[New York Telegram.

MODERN HAWKSHAWS.

The Requisites for a Successful Career as a Detective—Coolness, Bravery, and Good Judgment—The Real and the Fictional Detective.

"Looking back over my twenty years' experience I can not say that I regret my choice of a profession," remarked a detective at one of the city agencies yesterday.

"What are the requisites of a good detective?" asked a reporter who had been listening to his stories.

"Fearlessness, coolness and self-control. Without these a man can never be a perfect detective, for though he may be useful in some branches of the business he can never attain to the highest eminence in all of them. Huxst also have strong perceptive faculties, and that power of generalization which will enable him to jump at once to correct conclusions. Memory is one of his strong points. He can remember the face most impart it as indelibly upon his recollection that he can never forget it; and he must remember not only the face itself, but the time, place, and circumstances under which he first saw it. The face itself alone is not sufficient. The detective must have a strong memory for names, number, and dates as well. He must be intelligent, and have a keen eye for detail. He must be a natural born time b. of value to him in his profession. His eyesight and hearing should be of the best, and he should cultivate the power of observation which will enable him to see things that others do not see, and to do so, everything by which he is surrounded.

"That is a hard question to answer. There is no business in which the price varies more. Sometimes a man after having had a little apprenticeship of the police force or in connection with some agency, will set up in business as a private detective, and then he charges whatever he pleases. Detectives are paid by the day and I have known some of these private detectives, such as I have mentioned, to charge the unsophisticated $25 and even more, per day.

"For the services of any of their detectives the Pinkerton agency charges $8 per day, of which about one-half goes to the detective himself. This is the inevitable charge, and none of the Pinkerton detectives are permitted to work upon any other basis or with a view to obtaining a contingent reward. This is the only right way, for detectives, like merchants, should have no price only, but most of the private detectives can be induced to take up cases of speculation—that is, to agree to demand nothing for their work unless successful, in which event they are to receive a stipulated sum."

"How men become detectives?" They don't 'become'; they have a natural gift in that direction. Detectives, like poets, are born, not made. Many of them begin as amateurs. For instance, something occurs in their own lives which causes them to turn detective for their own purposes. They work up the case successfully; they find they like the work, and they embark on it as a business. You know that is the way Allan Pinkerton began. He lived in the west, and having horses stolen from him on several occasions he traced out the thieves in every instance, brought them to justice

"You would have been used to find how clever some amateur detectives are. I know a young Chestnut street merchant who would make one of the greatest of all detectives if he would follow the business. He wanted to find out the whereabouts and accidents of a young fellow whom he suspected in a certain manner. He employed detectives, but they could discover nothing. Finally he began to look into the matter himself, and although the man he was after had left the city and covered up his tracks, I'm blest if he didn't find out everything there was to find out. He discovered the address of a girl in Race street to whom the man had been paying attentions.

"He called on her, represented himself as a lawyer, said that her lover would inherit fortune if his identity could be established, and in order to do that he'd have to have some specimens of his handwriting, and he persuaded her to let him have two of the love letters the fellow had written her. That was as neat a piece of detective-work as I ever heard of.

"'Toften happens that a man fails to be good general detective through the lack of one on quality. Thus, I employed a young man who, I thought, would make a splendid detective. He had everything that a detective needs: a splendid physique, a splendid education, an elegant and insinuating manner, great powers of observation, a subtle attack on perception, and, in short, every requisite of a great detective except one, one that I could not teach him: a strong sense of control, having an ungoverned temper, which he gave way on slight provocation, and which he could not suppress. At first, I thought I was wrong, but I was not. However, and I assigned him to a case of difficult cases, which he worked up very skillfully. At last I resolved to test his sense of control. I told him that I had charged a confession from a young woman who was charged with infanticide. Now in the course of the confession, she said that after her husband confessed to me, he was in love with her, and took it into his head that he was not only innocent of the crime alleged against him, but that he was the father of the infant which she was accused of having destroyed, but that she had merely told me so to get him out of the way of her mother's shield. I heard. However, resolved to do his duty, and feeling sure the result would be such earnest protestations of her sincerity, I believed that in the world of their sincerity, he persevered in his attempts to excuse a confession. He acted wisely so much that she broke down completely. I told her that I was not in the affair, but being satisfied, from her words and actions, that she was undoubtedly guilty, I told her that I was sending her to prison from he had no more to say. I love and believe in had been guilty of such baseness that he putted forth into such a torrent of tears, and I saw her sobbing and her lips forever on the subject of her crime. The result was her prompt acquittal for lack of direct evidence. Thus you see how I was wrong for the moment to keep a temper."

"Are not the innocent often mistaken for the guilty?"

"Guiltless," an innocent man wrongly accused will always appear like a guilty one while a hardened criminal, under the most incriminating circumstances, will seem the most innocent of men. I remember a singular circumstance that occurred at the Smithsonian institution in Washington, when I was a student in the law office of one of our country's ablest jurists. In one of the coin cases there was a rare old Roman coin, supposed to be the only one of the kind in existence. One day a gentleman called on the curator and asked him to direct a juror to let him take the coin out of the case to examine it. It was placed in his hand, and after looking at it for some time, he returned it to the gentleman, to its place in the case and turned to leave the room. The curator approaching the case to lock it found that the coin was not there. He called for the gentleman, who immediately became very reticent and indignant and declared positively that he had replaced it. He was then escorted to his room, where he was respected him and being convinced from his conduct that he had stolen the coin, insisted upon searching him. He positively refused to do so, and after a long and bitter struggle, and myself after a hard struggle, succeeded in searching him by force, and found the coin in one of his pockets. I was just going to return it to him, when the curator, who had gone to restore the coin, stopped me, and returned it to the gentleman with apologies. The poor man had a similar coin which he had hidden in his pocket, and he was so afraid of exposing it that he had previously purchased at great expense a miniature one, which we had found in his pocket, and his visit was for the purpose of comparing the two.

The Fascination of Ballooning

Explorers of the air and earth are strangely alike in two respects—individually they seldom weary of their self-imposed struggles and collectively they make little progress. The first plunge of the Arctics into the Arctic was followed by a return trip, if the first be survived. Yet a lady's finger-tip can cover all of the polar circle yet charted, and Africa and Asia are still waiting to be explored. The Arctic ascents are credited to Prof. Wise, and Godard left the clouds beneath him at least 899 times. Their perseverance can hardly be surmised, but it is not in their appearances. Yet they went little higher or farther or longer than the bold men who tested Montgolfier's discovery and who were the first to find out that it is akin to that of gambling. There is a glorious uncertainty whether the aeronaut will come back to be fettered and quizzed, or whether the same thing will happen to him.

MORSELS FOR SUNDAY CONTEM-PLATION.

The heart often leads to the shearest folly.
After all, how often our reason fails us at a pinch.
With men, friendships mean something and last.
In the saddest life there is always some compensation.
Meddling rarely accomplishes anything except mischief.
There are hidden laws that control and shape our lives.
Women learn more through their hearts
than their heads.
Narrow minds think nothing right which is above their capacity.
The instinctive craving of every nature is for that which supplements itself.
One cannot live and fight side by side with a man for years and not know

How true it is, that often the heaviest burdens of life are those at which the world would laugh, and of which the overweighted heart cannot and will not speak.

When the Shah, during his visit to England, passed the St. Thomas Hospital, his amazement was great on finding what he supposed a palace to be a refuge for the sick and poor.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

HALLOWE'EN.

Who will be the next President?

NEXT Thursday is Thanksgiving Day.

The next session of the Division Court will be held on the 5th of November.

Mr. M. CAMPBELL is having the gas introduced into his residence on Main street.

MR. T. BUTLER's young orchard yields 100 bushels of choice apples this season.

SOME interesting announcements in our advertising columns. Study them carefully.

A CONSIDERABLE quantity of good hay is being brought to town, prices being 7 to 8 dollars per ton.

MR. G. E. SNIDER makes some changes in his advertisement suitable to this season of interesting events.

A correspondent of the Belleville Intelligencer refers to Deseronto as a model town and future rival of Belleville.

Mrs. COLEMAN is doing an excellent business in stationery, toys, fancy goods, &c. Goods continue to arrive daily.

A Grand Promenade Concert will be held in the Presbyterian Sabbath School room on Tuesday eve, Nov. 11th. Look for small bills.

JERSEY CATTLE.—Mr. Howatt, of Bay View Farm, has completed a sale to a gentleman of Halifax of four more Jerseys at satisfactory figures.

The depth of the new sewer at West Thomas street alone prevented a bloody combat the other day between two combatants thirsting for the fray.

BUGLARS are operating with renewed energy in neighboring towns and cities; it will be just as well to be prepared for their early visit to Deseronto.

DEMOLITION.—The work of tearing down the old dry kilns south of the Big Mill has been going on and those old land marks have become a thing of the past.

MR. JOHN DALTON, who is now doing an excellent business in his line, has purchased a fast and stylish looking young horse to expedite the delivery of his goods.

CAPT. CRAIG, the popular commander of the Hero, will observe the festival of Halloween by a pleasant party on board the steamer to which several residents of Deseronto are invited.

COMPLAINTS are being made concerning the sewer at the corner of Edmond and St. George streets. A foul stench issues from it which, it is alleged, is very annoying and unhealthy. What does Mr. Stewart think of that?

A NUMBER of thoughtless boys have been annoying Mrs. Douglas by throwing stones against her house and breaking her windows. This is too bad but the chief is investigating and the boys will no doubt be made to suffer.

SOME people possess more money than sense. The latest example is Wannamaker, the Philadelphia merchant, who threw away $200,000 in advertising last year and only pocketed a profit of a million in the transaction.

H. R. BEDFORD, Esq., has moved into his comfortable office in Mr. Austin Kimmerly's building two doors east of his old quarters. Mr. Widdington, of the Big Store, will occupy the remainder of the building.

The steam yacht Rust arrived in port last Saturday from Oswego, having aboard Messrs. Fred Conde, C. W. Parrie, W. B. Phelps Jr., G. N. Burt and C. C. Ruell. They lost a boat on the voyage. The party are spending a few days duck shooting.

A NUMBER of newspapers are much concerned about the action of the farmers who still persist in holding back their grain instead of sacrificing it at present prices. The agriculturists still continue to follow THE TRIBUNE's advice, and are consequently attending carefully to their fall ploughing, and will not place their grain in the market for a few weeks to come.

The town hall presents a busy scene these days, great numbers applying for leases of Reserve farms.

SEVERAL persons went away from the Church of the Redeemer on Wednesday 22nd inst., leaving coats, umbrellas and other articles behind them. The owners of these articles can get them by calling on Mr. J. Carwell, the sexton.

The next meeting of the Deseronto Temperance Society will be held in Rathbun Hall on Friday, Nov. 7th. The society is in a healthy condition. Messrs. J. W. Bradbeer and Wm. Stoddard are delegates to the Stirling convention.

COW BY LAW.—It is thought that the cow by-law is no longer in force. That is a mistaken idea. A drove of cattle have been let loose, it seems, on residents of the west end, and the Chief is determined to have owners fined.

Gananoque is discussing the propriety of establishing a night school for boys and young men unable to attend during the regular school hours. Will our School Board provide similar opportunities for the youth of this village?

IMPOUNDED.—The chief does not fancy the task of running cows into the pound, but he must obey instructions, and on Tuesday last he impounded six cows which were found infringing the by-law. Keep an eye to your cattle.

NEW BRIDGE.—Mr. W. Evans, of the shipyard, is busy constructing the frame work of a new bridge which is to be erected over the Napanee river, at Thompson's Mills. It will have two spans of fifty feet each. Mr. James Scantlin is at work on the foundations, piers &c.

NAVIGATION.—The various steamers still continue to ply on their accustomed routes but all report a decreased passenger traffic. The Puritan returned on Wednesday from Gananoque whither she had carried a large cargo of shingles, lath and assorted lumber. Capt Howard is busy with the tug Bonar at towing operations getting a supply of cedar logs for winter operations at the Cedar Mill.

THE Ottawa Free Press has been advocating a change in the system of procuring divorces in Canada. It very properly maintains that judges of the supreme court and not senators should be the proper tribunal. Poverty should not be a bar to justice being done. The only objection, of course, lies in the fact that there would be nothing left upon which senators might exercise the energies of their gigantic intellects.

BOX SOCIAL.—A Box Social under the auspices of the Deseronto Cornet Band will be held in Rathbun Hall, this evening (Friday). Each lady who attends will bring a box having provisions for two. Each gentleman brings 25 cents and as he enters the hall draws a box containing the name of the young lady with whom he is to share the contents of her box. There will be an immense attendance as every young lady in town has been busy preparing for the event.

OLD FOLK'S CONCERT.—Arrangements have been made with Captain Crawford and we are happy to announce that the Choir of Queen street Methodist Church, Kingston, will give an Old Folk's Concert in the White Church on Friday evening, Nov. 7th. This will be a repetition of that lately given in Kingston which the press of that city declared was one of the richest treats ever given to the people of the Limestone City. There is already a great demand for reserve tickets.

WELCOME HOME.—Rev. I. O. Mallory preached last Sunday with his wonted eloquence to large congregations at both services in the Methodist Church. The Rev. gentleman has met with a cordial welcome among old friends in Deseronto. He enjoyed excellent health in his western home, and has had the best opportunity of amassing much useful information concerning the Indian tribes of that part of Michigan. The readers of the Tribune are already under obligations to him for instructive correspondence.

SELENDIA FRUIT.—Mr. Henry Cushman has very generously placed on our table a large quantity of splendid apples grown on his extensive orchard at Green Point. The selection embraces specimens of such varieties as the Northern Spy, Fall Pippin, Russets, Snow, and Tolman Sweet. We have rarely seen such splendid samples of fruit in any part of Canada. One of these apples a Northern Spy, weighs one pound and we venture to say it cannot be beaten for size or regularity of contour. Our Deseronto readers who are now laying in their winter supply would find it to their advantage to give Green Point farmers a call before purchasing elsewhere.

MR. PATRICK HART discovered evidence of fire in the Central Office of the Rathbun Company about two o'clock on Wednesday morning. A still alarm was given and the fire extinguished without much damage being done.

SHIPYARD.—The tug Munson which has been undergoing repairs in the shipyard is ready to proceed to Belleville for her boiler after which she will return to this port for cabin and wheelhouse. The work done is of the most substantial character and she may be regarded now as a completely new vessel.

METHODIST CHURCH.—Rev. John E. Jewell, B. A., of Morven, will preach next Sabbath at both morning and evening services in the Methodist Church. On that day Rev. Mr. Crosby, in accordance with the appointment of the District meeting, will preach the anniversary missionary sermons at Morven.

Prince Edward people buying $5 worth or over of ready-made boots at Carter's get return tickets free.

A fine constitution may be broken and ruined by simple neglect. Mr. M. holds his result from habitual constipation. There is no medicine equal to Ayer's Pills to correct this evil, and restore the system to natural, regular, and healthy action.

PERSONAL.

MR. E. J. Edwards spent last Sunday in Wellington.

MR. W. D. Fremont of St. Josephs Island was in town on Thursday.

DR. D. Young of Adolphustown was in town Thursday on business.

MR. Wm. Mitchell, has returned to his native state for a few days.

MR. Harry Burgess was visiting friends in Napanee at the beginning of the week.

MR. and Mrs. J. Bresham spent last week visiting friends in Enterprise, &c.

MR. E. Comstock, mayor of Rome, N. Y. was in town on Wednesday on Railroad business.

MR. J. Barry has resigned his position in the Bay of Quinte Ry. office and goes to Montreal.

MR. C. W. Thompson, of Camden East Paper Mills, gave us the pleasure of a call last Saturday.

MISS Richards, of Belleville, spent a few days this week visiting friends in Deseronto.

Mrs. Thorne who has been enjoying a prolonged visit to Deseronto has returned to her home in Philadelphia.

MISS Shaw, of Watertown, N. Y., has opened out a millinery business in Mr. Dalton's shop on St. George st.

MR. James Stokes, of the Big Store office, has been suffering this week from a slight attack of malarial fever.

MR. Cornelius Oliver was away last week duck shooting at Hay Bay and succeeded in bagging thirteen choice ducks.

MR. M. J. Kelly, of the Chicago League baseball club, is at present in town visiting Mr. Howatt, of Bay View Farm.

MR. T. H. Naamith arrived in Deseronto the other day having just returned from surveying a large tract of land near the base of the Rocky mountains. He leaves at once for Ottawa where he will spend the winter.

In consequence of the war in China the price of Tea is gradually increasing. The Big Store imported largely before the war and are thus in a position to furnish this important article at the same price as heretofore. They distributed samples of their 30c and 50c tea, and the public, after trying it, are buying large quantities, being convinced of its superiority over any tea that can be bought elsewhere at the same or a much higher price.

Deseronto Cornet Band.

The good work goes bravely on. On Wednesday evening the Deseronto Cornet Band did another march-out and a number of citizens were serenaded at their residences or places of business. The following liberal donations were received for the Uniform Fund—A. A. Richardson, $5.00; Wm. Dunning, $3.00; John Mills, $5.00; C. G. Goodenough, $5.00; Mrs. Coleman, $2.00; C. E. Hulse, $2.00; John Jackson, $5c. The band also desire to acknowledge the receipt of a private contribution of $5.00 from Mr. E. A. Riven, and to state that in the previous report the name of Mr. Wm. Jamieson was unintentionally omitted he having long since contributed $5.00 to the fund. Deducting some expenses, the total amount now on hand is $191.02. The order for uniforms will soon be given, as the generous contributions already received are a sufficient guarantee that the balance can easily be secured.

The Big Store has been fortunate in securing a supply of Choice Dairy Butter. Any person who desires to secure good butter for use during this winter season cannot do better than to buy it now at the Big Store.

SCOTT ACT.

Over two hundred delegates assembled at Stirling on Wednesday to consider the propriety of submitting the Scott Act to the electors of Hastings. Dr. Boulter, ex-M. P. E., was called to the chair and addresses were delivered by many of the delegates who expressed their belief that the Act would be carried by all working strenuously until polling day. After full consideration it was resolved to proceed with the preliminary arrangements for submitting the Act and canvassing the County. A general central Committee was appointed, with A. F. Wool, M. P. P., President; Rev. F. B. Stratton, Secretary and E. D. O'Flynn, Treas. Conveners were appointed for electoral districts. Rev. D. O. Crossley being appointed for Deseronto Delegates from Belleville assured the Convention that they would have the hearty co-operation of the temperance people of that city. It will be thus seen that there are stirring times ahead for the electors of Hastings.
